

College Planning Resources

IT'S NEVER TOO EARLY TO START PREPARING FOR COLLEGE

At Concordia, we're committed to helping parents prepare for their students' college future.

We have curated our favorite resources that we believe will help parents like you as you start thinking about your student's college selection process.

When you visit cune.edu/plan, you'll find those resources that include helpful tips for your student for each year of high school, in addition to parent-specific information.

One thing to keep in mind during the college selection process is that it's important for your student to find their best fit and provides them the resources and learning atmosphere that will help them reach their potential.

The best way to know if a university is going to be a good fit for your student is to schedule a campus visit, where they'll have an opportunity to meet professors, advisors, coaches and other current and prospective students. Spending time on a campus will give you and your student a perspective that you won't be able to get through websites and other marketing materials. Most universities host private visits, and also have the option for families to schedule online visits.
