THE UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY PROFILE

Concordia University opened its doors on Nov. 18, 1894, with one professor, a dozen male students and a three-year high school curriculum. Concordia has since grown into a fully accredited, coeducational university, which has granted more than 22,000 degrees and certificates. Concordia, Nebraska is a member institution of the Concordia University System (CUS) of the Lutheran Church–Missouri Synod (LCMS).

MISSION STATEMENT OF CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY, NEBRASKA

Concordia University, Nebraska is an excellent academic and Christ-centered community equipping men and women for lives of learning, service, and leadership in the church and world.

STATEMENT OF AFFILIATION

Concordia University, operating under the auspices of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, is a coeducational institution of higher learning committed to the Christian growth of its students.

SETTING

Since 2012, Concordia's graduate programs have been primarily delivered in an online format. Concordia's main campus is in Seward, NE, about 20 miles west of the Lincoln course location. The main campus covers nearly 120 acres and features more than 25 buildings. Because Concordia draws the majority of its traditional-age students from outside Nebraska, residence hall living, and student activities play prominent roles in shaping these students' total educational experience. Concordia has 11 residence halls, a student center, athletic fields for intercollegiate and intramural sports, and an abundance of open space for informal recreational activities. During the 1999-2000 academic year, the 65,000-square-foot Thom Leadership Education Center was placed into service, and it was dedicated in the fall of 2000. The Osten Observatory was added to campus in 2002. During the spring of 2006, an apartment-style residence hall was constructed, and a Sprinturf synthetic playing surface was installed in the stadium. In 2009, Concordia opened its Health, Human Performance and Athletic Center. It is among the finest facilities of its kind for colleges within the NAIA and for any university of Concordia's size.

Seward is an ideal home for Concordia University's main campus. The town's 7,200 people welcome students into their community, and many local businesses provide jobs for students. The campus is within walking distance of downtown shops, eating establishments, and a movie theater. St. John Lutheran Church, just across the street from campus, serves as a home church for many faculty members and students. St. John Lutheran School serves as a laboratory for Concordia's teacher education students. Seward is just six miles from Interstate 80 and 24 miles west of Lincoln, the state capital and home of the University of Nebraska's main campus. A trip to Omaha takes roughly 75 minutes.

ACCREDITATION

Concordia University, Nebraska is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission, a Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (www.ncahigherlearningcommission.org: (312)-263-0456).

Concordia is approved by the Nebraska State Board of Education through the Committee of Educational Examiners of the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education for the preparation of elementary, secondary, early childhood, and special education teachers. The teacher education programs are accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

The U.S. Department of Education requires that Concordia University provides information to students who are interested in a program leading to professional licensure. This information is available at: <https://www.cune.edu/concordia-difference/about-concordia/accreditation>

The music programs are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. The majority of Concordia's programs are approved by the Nebraska State Department of Education for veterans and other persons eligible for VA benefits.

The College of Business and Technology at Concordia University, Nebraska has received specialized accreditation for its business programs through the International Accreditation Council for Business Education (IACBE) located at 11960 Quivira Road, Suite 300, Overland Park, KS, 66213, USA. GENERAL ACADEMIC INFORMATION

STATEMENT OF NON-DISCRIMINATION

Concordia University, Nebraska does not discriminate in admissions practices on the basis of age, race, color, gender, or national or ethnic origin. Admitted students enjoy the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally offered to all Concordia students. Concordia does not discriminate according to age, race, color, gender, and national and ethnic origin in administering admissions and educational policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs. The university does not discriminate against persons with handicaps regarding student admission or worker employment and provides college and university activities and programs to all who qualify.

ADMISSION TO THE GRADUATE PROGRAM

Students interested in enrolling in the Concordia University, Nebraska Graduate Program are encouraged to contact the Graduate Admission Office for information on admission. Students may apply online at the Concordia website: www.cune.edu/apply. Students may not start classes in a graduate program until they have been awarded their undergraduate degree.

- Students in the Bachelor's to Master's program are exempt from this policy.

Non-Degree Seeking Graduate Students

A student may be admitted as a non-degree seeking student by completing the application and submitting official transcripts.

Degree Seeking Graduate Students

A student may be admitted to the Graduate Program after the following have been submitted:

1. Application for admission to the Graduate Studies and Adult Education program.
2. Official Transcript of credits showing bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university and at least a 2.80 cumulative grade point average. Some programs may require a higher-grade point average. Additional transcripts may be required to substantiate fulfilling prerequisites or program requirements if the applicant attended additional institutions.
3. Letter of Intent – specific details can be found at: <https://cune.edu/admissions/graduate>
4. In addition to these general admission requirements, each program may have other requirements. See the relevant program later in the catalog for details.

The classifications for degree seeking students are as follows:

Regular Status

Students must submit the following materials in order to be considered for regular admission to the Graduate Program:

1. Application for admission form and payment for any associated fees.
2. An official transcript of credits showing bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university and at least a 2.8 cumulative grade point average.
3. Letter of Intent – specific details can be found at: <https://cune.edu/admissions/graduate>
4. For international students, other documents and certifications as required by law or as specified in the graduate catalog.

Note: Students seeking a Master of Education degree should be aware that completing the master's program does not ensure that they have met all the requirements of certification and licensure in individual states. Students should check with state licensing and certification bodies to see what requirements must be met prior to the completion of their program (e.g., successful teaching experience). In addition, each program may have its own testing requirements as a part of the admissions process.

Conditional Academic Status

Students who do not meet the regular admission standards may be admitted on a Conditional Academic (CA) basis. Students admitted with CA status may enroll for a maximum of six hours of graduate work. Upon completion of these six hours and having achieved a 3.0 grade point average for these courses, the Graduate Program will move the student's status from CA to Standard Admission status. If the student does not achieve a 3.0 grade point average upon completion of these six hours, the student may be dismissed from the graduate program.

Conditional Incomplete

Students who have not submitted all documentation required for admission may be admitted on a Conditional Incomplete (CI) basis. Students admitted with CI status may enroll for a maximum of six hours. Once a student's admission documentation is complete, the student will be moved to either Standard Admission or Conditional Academic (CA) status, as appropriate.

THE ADMISSION PROCESS

When an applicant's file is complete, it will be reviewed. One of four decisions will be made:

1. Accept the applicant unconditionally to the program.
2. Students who do not meet the regular admission standards may be admitted on a Conditional Academic (CA) basis. Students admitted with CA status may enroll for a maximum of six hours of graduate work. Upon completion of these six hours and having achieved a 3.0 grade point average for these courses, the graduate program will move the student's status from CA to Standard Admission status. If the student does not achieve a 3.0 grade point average upon completion of these six hours, the student may be dismissed from the graduate program.

3. Students who have not submitted all documentation required for admission may be admitted on a Conditional Incomplete (CI) basis. Students admitted with CI status may enroll for one term. Once a student's admission documentation is complete, the student will be moved to either Standard Admission or Conditional Academic (CA) status, as appropriate.

4. Deny the student's admission.

The applicant will be notified of the decision.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ADMISSION

There are two classifications of international students at Concordia University, Nebraska:

1. International students can apply for on-line programs. In these cases, they stay in their home country, will not be given an I-20, will not be considered F-1 students, and do not come to the U.S. for full-time on-site study.
2. An international student looking to come to the U.S. to study full-time as an F-1 visa student can apply to graduate programs that provide primarily a traditional face-to-face format and take place at the Lincoln or Seward campuses. As graduate programs expand and change, it is important to check current and projected program parameters to know whether programs are available to international students. There are currently no graduate programs available in this format.

International student applicants must meet all regular admission standards listed for the program they intend to enter. In addition, they must also provide the documentation described below:

1. Official Transcript Evaluation and Submission: Provide an evaluation report and transcripts to verify credentials and U.S. equivalencies with a clear, consistent analysis of academic degrees and transcripts. Please send official copies of your international transcripts to one of the following agencies:
 - A. Academic Credentials Evaluation Institute, Inc. at: www.acei1.com
 - B. AACRAO: Office of International Education Services at: www.aacrao.org
 - C. Educational Credential Evaluators, Inc. at: www.ece.org
 - D. Foundation for International Services, Inc. at:

www.fis-web.com

E. World Education Services, Inc. at: www.wes.org.

F. International Credential Evaluations (InCRED) at www.incredevals.org/students.

2. English Proficiency: Graduate students must be proficient in the English language. For non-native English-speaking international students (and other non-native English speakers), this would be measured by TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) or IELTS (International English Language Testing System). A total score of 80 or above (TOEFL iBT test) or 6.5 or above (IELTS) is required for admission. Information on these tests is available at ETS.org/TOEFL for TOEFL and IELTS.org for IELTS. The student should request the TOEFL test scores be mailed to Concordia University, Nebraska - code number 6116.

3. Financial Verification for F-1 Students (this does not apply to students living abroad and enrolled in online programs): Proof of financial support that will meet the total educational and living expenses for the first-year period of study at Concordia is required for international students studying in the United States.

Any questions regarding admission to Concordia should be directed to the Graduate Admission Department.

INTERNAL TRANSFER TO ANOTHER PROGRAM

If a student wishes to transfer from one program to another, he or she must submit an Academic Program Change Form. The student must inform the Student Services Representative/Advisor of his or her decision. The Student Services Representative/Advisor will provide the form to the student for completion. All admission procedures for the new program must be followed. Even though a student has been admitted to one graduate program, he or she is not guaranteed admission to or transfer to another program. It should also be noted that courses that transferred in for one program may not necessarily transfer in for another program.

Students who wish to change their programs of study can only do so at the end of a Financial Aid Term. Thus, the program changes can only be done at the end of the Fall 2 Module (late December); Spring 2 Module (late April); or the Summer 2 Module (late August) of each Academic Year. Students who wish to change their programs of study in the middle of a Financial Aid Term, must withdraw from their current programs of study at the end of the first module in that Financial Aid Term, and resume study in their new programs at the beginning of the next Financial Aid Term.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

ACADEMIC CREDIT HOUR REQUIREMENTS

One hour of graduate academic credit represents approximately 5-8 hours of instruction or instructional activities per week or 40-60 hours of instruction or instructional activities over the course of an academic module or term. Instruction and instructional activities may include but are not limited to lecture, discussion and activities, readings, written or spoken projects, internships, practicum, labs, lab prep, review sessions, mediated discussion, media presentations (e.g., videos, podcasts), or simulations.

REGISTERING FOR CLASSES

Upon notification of acceptance, the student should contact his or her Student Services Representative/Advisor to discuss registering for classes and the overall program. The education programs are normally offered in a cohort format with courses taken in sequence online, face-to-face, or blended formats; it is important to determine site and start dates. Ordinarily, the Student Services Representative/Advisor will discuss a long-range program with the student at this time.

Adds:

A currently registered student may add a class during the first week of the module prior to 5:00 pm on Friday. The student must contact his or her Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor (GASSA) to add a course.

Student-Initiated Drops:

A student may drop his or her registration from a course by 5 pm Central Time on Wednesday of the second week of class. This is to ensure proper processing before 5 pm on Friday so that students will be eligible for a 100% tuition refund. A drop is a change in registration and is not entered into the student's official grade transcript. A 100% tuition refund will be issued to the student's account.

Administrative Drops:

- A student who has not paid their tuition balance by either securing financial aid, arranging a monthly payment plan, or paying in full by Friday of the second week of class may be administratively withdrawn from the university.
- A student who is a non-participant/non-attende in the first ten days of class may be considered a "no show" and will be administratively dropped on the tenth day (Wednesday). This is to ensure proper processing before

5 pm Central Time on Friday so that students will be eligible for a 100% tuition refund. This drop constitutes a change in registration and is not entered into the student's official grade transcript. A 100% tuition refund will be issued to the student's account.

Academic attendance and academically related activity for face-to-face courses includes:

- Physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and the students.
- Submitting an academic assignment.
- Taking an exam, completing an interactive tutorial, or participating in computer-assisted instruction.
- Attending a study group assigned by the university.
- Participating in an online discussion about academic matters.
- Initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about academic subject studied in the course.

Academic attendance and academically related activity for an online/distance education student includes:

- Student submission of an academic assignment.
- Student submission of an exam; documented student participation in an interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction.
- A posting by the student showing the student's participation in an online study group that is assigned by the institution.
- A posting by the student in a discussion forum showing the student's participation in an online discussion about academic matters.
- E-mail from the student or other documentation showing that the student-initiated contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course.

The definition of academic attendance and academically related activity does not include activities where a student may be present, but not academically engaged, such as:

- Living in institutional housing.
- Participating in the university's meal plan.
- Participating in a student-organized study group.
- Logging into an online class without active participation; or
- Participation in academic counseling or advising.

A student's self-certification of attendance in an academically related activity must be supported by institutional documentation of the student's attendance in the activity.

Exceptions to the Administrative Drop requirements may apply to international students based on visa requirements. Any exceptions to the requirements must be approved by the respective Dean.

Withdrawals:

After the ten day drop period, a student may withdraw from a class any time up to the withdrawal date using the Student Withdrawal Form which can be obtained from the Student Services Representative/Advisor. When approved, a "W" will be recorded on the student's official record. This will not count in the student's GPA; however, it will count in the number of hours attempted.

If a student is administratively withdrawn within the first ten days of a term during the first Module or makes the decision to withdraw after the tenth day of the Module, the student must submit an Intent to Return form for the second Module to the applicable Student Services Representative. Otherwise, the student's registration for the second Module will be cancelled. Any tuition refund for a withdrawal will follow the appropriate refund schedule per class length.

After the withdrawal deadline, a student may not withdraw from a class. A letter grade will be posted for work completed for the class.

If a student stops attending in the judgment of the Student Services Representative, after consulting with the instructor, then the student will be administratively dropped or withdrawn no later than 14 days after the student's last date of attendance. If he/she is administratively withdrawn, a grade of "W" will be recorded on the official transcript by the Graduate Registrar upon notification by the Student Services Representative. The student's tuition refund is based on the date of the submission of the withdrawal form. After the withdrawal deadline, a student may not be withdrawn from a class.

If a student stops attending after the withdrawal deadline, the final grade will be based on the work completed on the last date of attendance as compared to the requirements of the full course which may result in the grade of "F" being recorded on the official transcript. No tuition refund will be available. The grade will count in the student's GPA, and it will count toward the number of hours attempted.

Whenever a student is awarded a final grade of "F" for a course, the instructor must record a Last Date of Attendance along with the final grade. Passing grades do not require a Last Date of Attendance.

- Earned F: Enter the last date of the module. If the student attended through the end of the course, the instructor should record the last scheduled date of the course as the Last Date of Attendance. (Considered to be an Earned F.)
- Unearned F: Enter the Last Date of Attendance.
- If the student did not attend through the end of the course, the instructor should enter the Last Date of Attendance (Considered an Unearned F).

Withdrawal Deadline:

The withdrawal deadline is three weeks prior to the end of the course. The withdrawal deadline dates will be determined and published by the Registrar for each term.

PLEASE NOTE: Changes in enrollment may lead to funding owed back to the university due to unearned portions of aid already disbursed to the student. Should an outstanding balance result, a registration hold will be initiated, and the student will not be allowed to register or receive copies of academic transcripts until the balance is paid in full. Before making decisions to drop or withdraw, the student should contact the Student Financial Services Office for more information.

Compassionate Attrition:

A student may request a compassionate attrition from all coursework after the published withdrawal deadline for the term or part of term, as applicable, in which the student is enrolled and when extraordinary circumstances prevent the student from continuing. An extraordinary circumstance is a circumstance that could not be reasonably predicted or expected. The compassionate attrition covers physical and mental health, care of a seriously ill immediate family member, death in the student's immediate family, or extreme circumstance or disaster. A previously stable pre-existing condition that has since exacerbated in a way that could not be foreseen or anticipated can be considered for a compassionate attrition. Graduate students will work with their Applicable Dean.

All requests for compassionate attrition require thorough and credible documentation from a reliable third party. Credible documentation should include, but is not limited to, the provider(s) name, credentials, address, fax, and phone number, and signed by the provider. A reliable third party must be someone who is familiar with the history and functional limitations of the individual's physical or mental health condition, including the impact on completing coursework, and the necessity for the requested attrition. Generally, someone related to the student should not be the one to provide supporting documentation. Documentation for other extraordinary circumstances will also be required. The process for requesting and granting a compassionate attrition will be outlined in the document, "Compassionate Attrition Process". Submission of information does not guarantee approval.

If a compassionate attrition is granted from the University after the published withdrawal deadline for the term or part of term, as applicable, in which the student is enrolled: The student's Room and Meal Plan charges are refundable on a prorated basis, if applicable.

Fees and tuition are nonrefundable for the term or part of term, as applicable, in which the student is enrolled in which the compassionate attrition is requested and granted.

The University Registrar will withdraw the student from all classes and record a W on the transcript resulting in no negative impact on the student's GPA.

STUDENT COURSE LOAD

There are three terms (16 weeks) per year in the Graduate Program: Fall, Spring, and Summer. For each of those terms, a full-time credit load is at least six graduate credit hours. Half-time load is three semester credit hours. Within a term is a module (eight weeks), a normal load is 3.0 credit hours per module. If a student desires to register for more than 6.0 credit hours in a module, the Dean's approval is required.

PROVISIONALLY ADMITTED STUDENT CREDIT LOAD

Students who do not meet the regular admission standards may be admitted on a Conditional Academic (CA) basis. Students admitted with CA status may enroll for a maximum of six hours of graduate work. Upon completion of these six hours and having achieved a 3.0 grade point average for these courses, the graduate program will move the student's status from CA to Standard Admission status. If the student does not achieve a 3.0 grade point average upon completion of these six hours, the student may be dismissed from the graduate program.

Students who have not submitted all documentation required for admission may be admitted on a Conditional Incomplete (CI) basis. Students admitted with CI status may enroll for a maximum of six hours. Once a student's admission documentation is complete, the student will be moved to either Standard Admission or Conditional Academic (CA) status, as appropriate.

SECOND MASTER'S DEGREE

When a prior master's degree has been awarded from Concordia University, students are prohibited from earning the same degree twice.

Any course that has been used toward an earned graduate degree at another institution shall not be accepted for transfer credit. Transfer courses used in one master's degree program at Concordia shall not be accepted as credit toward another degree.

A maximum of 9 credit hours from the first Concordia master's degree and appropriate to the second degree, may be applied toward the second degree from Concordia University. These must have been completed within the previous 10 years. Exceptions to the time limit must be approved by the program director and the Dean of the appropriate college.

NON-DEGREE-SEEKING STUDENT

Post-Baccalaureate students who plan to take coursework only and not pursue an academic program must submit to the Graduate Program:

1. Application for admission.
2. An official transcript of credits showing a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university.

INACTIVE STUDENTS

Students who have not registered for a course within the preceding 365 days will be considered inactive. To reactivate their enrollment, they must fill out a new application and submit this form to their Student Services Representative/Advisor, along with transcripts of any new coursework taken at other institutions. Students whose progress toward a degree has been irregular or interrupted for three years or more must meet requirements stated in the most recent catalog.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

Regular status graduate students whose cumulative grade-point average (GPA) falls below 3.0 will be placed on academic probation. These students will have six credits to restore their cumulative GPA to 3.0. If they fail to do so, students may be dismissed from the University. An adult undergraduate online student whose cumulative grade-point average (GPA) falls below a 2.0, will be placed on academic probation. These students may be released from academic probation by completing 12.00 or more semester hours in a given semester and achieving 2.00 (C) cumulative GPA. If the student is placed on academic probation in a subsequent semester, s/he is subject to dismissal.

The student may use the appeals procedure to present extenuating circumstances which may lead to readmission as a graduate student. He or she will also need to present a plan for successful continuation in the program.

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT

Graduate programs and Online Undergraduate programs will allow students to earn a maximum of six credit hours towards a graduate degree through Prior Learning Assessment. These six credit hours would be applied towards the limit of 25% of credit hours accepted for transfer into a graduate program.

A student who desires to have prior learning assessed for graduate credit must go through the process for Prior Learning Assessment before completion of the first six credit hours that the student is enrolled. The process for students to earn graduate credit for Prior Learning includes, but is not limited to the following:

1. Application submitted to the applicable graduate Program Director.
2. Payment of a non-refundable fee to the university to have the prior learning assessed.
3. Enrollment by the student in a 0 credit Prior Learning Assessment course that consists of different types of documentation of prior learning related to applicable objectives for the course or courses that the student is attempting to earn credit for,
4. An assessment of the documentation provided by the student is examined using a standard template by the applicable Program Director or a full-time Faculty member in the applicable department.
5. The student is awarded a "Pass" if the student provides the required documentation of prior learning for each objective within the graduate course and the documentation provided is deemed worthy of meeting the applicable course objective by the faculty member assigned to assess the prior learning. This documentation that would be required to be provided includes, but is not limited to, a signed job description by the student's supervisor, signed testimonial by the student's supervisor or colleague, or copy of certificate of completion for training. Failure to provide the required documentation for all objectives that is deemed appropriate by the faculty member assigned to assess the prior learning will result in a "Fail". Since the Prior Learning Assessment course is 0 credits, a "Fail" does not impact the student's GPA.

6. If a "Pass" is awarded for the Prior Learning Assessment, then the applicable Program Director completes a Course Substitution form for the appropriate course for credit to be awarded.

Students interested in pursuing Prior Learning Assessment for their graduate program or Online Undergraduate program should contact their GASSA or for further details.

TRANSFER CREDIT

Depending on the admission policy of the program, a student may be allowed credit for work completed at the graduate level prior to enrolling at Concordia University. Application for the transfer of such credits must be made prior to completion of the first course. The applicant must provide official transcripts from a regionally accredited college or university documenting the completed work and the grades obtained for this work. These grades must meet the Concordia admission standards.

1. Students will be expected to document the course content either through a copy of the catalog description of the course or a course syllabus.
2. Undergraduate courses will not transfer for graduate courses and will not count towards a master's degree.
3. In order for a course to transfer to Concordia, the number of graduate credits for the course taken at another university must be equal to or greater than the number of credits of the comparable course at Concordia, e.g., a two-credit course cannot transfer in for a three-credit course. Courses in which the student received lower than a 3.0 (B) will not be considered for transfer.
4. A maximum of 25% of the credits required in any given program may be accepted by transfer from an appropriately approved and accredited institution. Upon recommendation from the Registrar and appropriate certification officer, the dean of the applicable college may accept additional coursework.
5. Graduate level courses completed less than five years prior to admission may be eligible for transfer upon approval by the program director. Graduate level courses completed five years or more prior to admission will not be eligible for transfer. Exceptions must be approved by the applicable Dean.

AUDIT POLICY

A student may audit a course contingent upon availability of space and approval of the course instructor. Students must meet the prerequisites or be granted special permission in writing by the instructor for any audited course for which they enroll. In order to audit a course, instructor approval for audit must be received in writing by the Registrar's Office. Students auditing a course are expected to attend all classes but are not required to complete written course assignments and examinations. A reduced fee will be charged.

GRADING POLICY

Formal reports of the student's progress may be accessed online at the close of each term. The following grade point system is used to determine grade point average.

Grade	Points per Credit
A	4.00
A-	3.67
B+	3.33

W	0.00*
I	0.00

*W equals 0.00 points, withdrawn without penalty, not computed in grade point average. Given for withdrawal after the withdrawal deadline under authorized conditions.

I equals 0.00 points, Incomplete, not computed in GPA.

Definition of Grades:

- A The student has demonstrated an excellent mastery of the material and has met the objectives of the course in an excellent manner.
- B The student has demonstrated a commendable mastery of the material and has met the objectives of the course in a commendable manner.
- C The student has demonstrated a satisfactory mastery of the material and has met the objectives of the course in a satisfactory manner.
- D The student has demonstrated a satisfactory mastery of the material but has met the objectives of the course in a minimal manner.
- F The student has failed to master the material or meet the objectives of the course

INCOMPLETES POLICY

A student may be given a grade of "Incomplete" so long as:

- The student has completed at least 75% of the assignments in the course.
- The student has a grade of at least a B- in the course.
- The student formally requests an incomplete from the instructor and provides documentation of an unavoidable or unforeseen circumstance; and
- The instructor and the applicable Program Director agree that the abnormal circumstances will prevent that student from completing the course requirements.

If a student does not meet all the above criteria, the request will require the applicable Dean's approval.

An incomplete is to be removed within 30 days after the last day a course meets. If the student's ability to complete the course within the 30-day extension is compromised by ongoing abnormal circumstances, an additional 30-day extension may be granted by the instructor in consultation with the Program Director and Dean of the applicable college. An incomplete that is not removed prior to deadlines above will be recorded as a "Failure." Incompletes are removed when the instructor files a "Grade Change Form" with the Registrar.

Theses, independent studies, and projects are exceptions to the policies above. These ordinarily must be finished within one calendar year. The Program Director is to provide opportunity for students to remove incompletes in the absence of the instructor.

STUDENT COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

Concordia University takes seriously student concerns and complaints regarding the conduct of students, faculty, and staff. ISSUES INVOLVING SEXUAL MISCONDUCT ARE NOT WITHIN THE SCOPE OF NOR COVERED BY THIS PROCEDURE. If this is a Concern or Complaint involving sexual misconduct (harassment, assault, stalking or similar conduct) it should be immediately directed to the University Title IX Coordinator at: 402-643-7261. The University's Policy Against Sexual Misconduct and information on how to file a complaint concerning sexual misconduct can be found at <http://www.cune.edu/a-to-z/offices/title-ix/>.

ISSUES OF A LEGAL NATURE should be addressed with The Office of the General Counsel at (402) 643-7192 or Kirby.Klappenback@cune.edu.

The following procedures provide guidance for resolving conflict between individuals relating to both academic and non-academic issues. Concordia University believes that all students should be treated with respect and dignity and should receive the best quality of services possible. Additionally, as Christians, we strive to respond to conflict biblically through use of Matthew 18 by encouraging both parties to listen to each other, think about the concerns expressed, and be open to resolving the issue (see Matthew 18 in its entirety in the appendix).

Step 1: Student Concerns

Concordia University takes student concerns seriously. A "Concern" is defined as an initial unresolved question regarding some circumstance experienced by a student at the university. If you have a Concern, the first step toward a resolution is to work individually with the faculty or staff member most directly related to that issue. Many problems are easily solved this way.

In cases where it is not possible or appropriate to work directly with that person, or if the student is unable to reach a resolution, you may also address academic concerns with department chairs and program directors, or non-academic concerns with the supervisor of the university area where the issue is occurring. Undergraduate students should contact the Student Affairs Office for assistance in determining the appropriate supervisor. Students in graduate courses should contact their Student Service Representative.

Step 2: Student Complaints

If the issue remains unresolved after you have met with the individual and/or supervisor, you may submit a formal Complaint. A "Complaint" is defined as a written expression of dissatisfaction concerning a university employee, department, service, process, or administrative action that requires investigation and/or resolution. You must submit a signed complaint form with specific dates, names and facts to the persons listed below. Only Complaints that are submitted in writing will be managed by this procedure and recorded and archived by the university. All such Complaints will be treated in a confidential manner to the extent feasible while permitting Concordia University to thoroughly investigate the Complaint, involve appropriate supervisors when necessary, and take appropriate action.

Complaint forms should be submitted to:

- Undergraduate complaints should be submitted to the Vice President for Student Affairs and Athletics at (402) 643-7373 or gene.brooks@cune.edu
- Graduate complaints should be submitted to your Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor (GASSA). These contacts will provide guidance on the process for addressing your particular issue and will route your complaint to the appropriate following administrator.
 - Course issues, academic dishonesty, program requirements: Program Director
 - admission to or dismissal from specific academic programs: Dean of the appropriate college
 - Student academic records: Registrar
 - Academic services and resources, student disability accommodations or discrimination: Academic

Resource and Disability Support Services Coordinator

- Financial matters: Accounts Receivable and Billing Manager
- Parking Tickets, student life, treatment by another student, athletics, or FERPA: Vice President for Student Affairs and Athletics

Step 3: Student Appeals

If your Complaint is not satisfactorily resolved through the formal complaint process listed above, you may make an appeal for a review of the decision to the designated administrative officer listed below based on the subject of the complaint. That administrative officer may convene an appellate board to review the decision depending on its subject matter and the related university policies. All appeals must be submitted in writing and addressed to the designated administrative officer within five (5) business days after you have been notified of the decision. Your written appeal should state the basis on which the appeal is being made and should contain specific information and supporting documentation.

Appeals of Complaint Decisions

If your appeal is based on one of the following areas, then appeals of Complaint Decisions should be made to the following administrators:

- Course issues, academic dishonesty, program requirements, or admission to or dismissal from specific academic programs: University Provost
- Student academic records: University Provost
- Academic services and resources: University Provost
- Student disability accommodations or discrimination: 504 Compliance Officer
- Financial matters: Chief Financial Officer
- Parking Tickets, student life, treatment by another student, athletics, or FERPA: Executive Vice President CFO/COO

If instead, your appeal is related to one of the areas directly below, you should instead consult the corresponding procedure that already exists in CUNE Academic Policies or for that issue:

- Student Grade Appeals:
Grades may be changed only by the instructor. If the issue is related to a final grade, the appeal must begin within 30 days of the date the grade is posted by the registrar. All subsequent appeals must be submitted in writing within 5 business days after the student has been notified of the decision be appealed. Any exceptions must be approved by the program director and respective Dean.
- Student Conduct Decisions:

Decisions on student conduct that are in violation of the Graduate Student Code of Conduct are made by the Dean of the relevant college. Decisions on Academic Dishonesty conduct are based on Graduate Academic Policy G-2.382. Appeals of conduct decisions made by the Dean should also be submitted to the Vice President for Student Affairs and Athletics just as is done by undergraduate students.

- Student Status Appeals: Appeals regarding academic dismissals and probations must be made to the University Provost.
- Satisfactory Progress Status: Students who are ineligible for aid because they did not make satisfactory progress may request in writing within 15 days of notification a review of their situation. Appeals will be reviewed by the Director of Student Financial Services and the student will be notified of the final determination (APH 2.121).
- Program Admission and Status: Students who wish to appeal departmental decisions regarding their admission or status in specific programs will follow procedures according to relevant academic policy, including Music (APH 4.160), Pre-Seminary (APH 4.180), Teacher Education (Education Handbook 4.140), DCE Internship Approval and Termination (Education Handbook 4.171 and 4.172). Appeals of decisions regarding the Lutheran Teachers Diploma, DCE Certificate, Director of Parish Music Certificate, Colloquy Certification, and Placement of Synodical Candidates are governed by Education Handbook 4.200. Appeals of decisions by the Education Intervention Board follow procedures described by Education Handbook Appendix C. Decisions related to initial admission to the institution may not be appealed.

Step 4: The decisions of all appeals described above may be appealed to the University President.

Step 5: It is expected that students will fully utilize any/all of Concordia University's administrative procedures to address concerns and/or complaints in as timely a manner as possible. On occasion, however, a student may believe that these administrative procedures have not adequately addressed complaints. If the complaint is still not satisfactorily addressed, students have the right to file a complaint with:

1. The Higher Learning Commission ("HLC") of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools is an independent body responsible for the accreditation of programs offered by Concordia University. Accredited institutions are required to submit progress reports, monitoring reports, contingency reports, and annual reports, as well as to participate in focus visits. When a complaint raises issues regarding an institution's ability to meet accreditation criteria, HLC will forward a copy of the complaint to the institution and request a formal response. Complaints may be filed with Higher Learning Commission at the following link: <http://www.ncahlc.org/information-for-the-public/complaints.html>.

2. If you believe that your Complaint continues to warrant further consideration after exhausting the review of either the administrators at Concordia University or HLC, you may contact the Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education. The commission may be contacted at PO Box 95005 Lincoln, NE 68509-5005 or by phone at (402)-471-2847 and fax: at (402)-471-2886.

3. The Office of the Attorney General for the State of Nebraska is authorized to investigate and prosecute violations of state consumer laws, including laws relating to deceptive advertising, credit, charitable solicitations, telecommunications, telemarketing, and sales. The Attorney General's Office cooperates with other states, the Federal Trade Commission, and other federal agencies in addressing national consumer protection issues. Complaints may be filed with the Attorney General for the State of Nebraska:

Nebraska Attorney General, Consumer Protection
Division 2115 State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Nothing in this disclosure should be construed to limit any right that you may have to take civil or criminal legal action to resolve your complaints. Concordia University has provided this disclosure in compliance with the requirements of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, as regulated in CFR 34, sections 600.9 (b) (3) and 668.43(b). If anything in this disclosure is out of date, please notify the Office of the General Counsel at Concordia University, 800 N. Columbia Ave., Seward, NE 68434.

LENGTH OF COURSES

Courses will be assigned to a term with specific meeting dates and times. This information is available on the portal (portal.cune.edu) and on the student's Banner account. Within a term is a module (eight weeks), a normal load is 3.0 credit hours per module. A class module is eight weeks in length.

ATTENDANCE

Federal Financial Aid regulations, which Concordia observes for all students, require that students regularly participate in courses in which they are enrolled. All students must log into the course management system (Blackboard) or participate in a face-to-face session weekly in order to avoid being tagged as a non-participant. Students must use the Concordia Blackboard and e-mail messaging systems to contact instructors and Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor. Students who are unable to participate regularly in their courses for any reason should contact their instructor and their Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor. Students who intend to withdraw from a course or a program should notify their instructor and Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY POLICY

1. Academic dishonesty is a serious offense that will result in serious penalties which may include course failure or expulsion from Concordia University

2. Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, and lying.

a. Plagiarism occurs when students use the work, research, ideas, or words of any other person or source without proper citation or credit. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to: Submitting the same or similar work the student completed for another class without the permission of the current instructor, submitting the same or similar work of any other individual, paraphrasing someone else's idea without attributing, quoting without using quotation marks and citing the source, taking information from the internet without quoting or citing sources.

b. Cheating includes but is not limited to: Using unauthorized materials such as notes, books, or electronic devices during an exam or assignment, inappropriate consultation with a classmate, copying answers from another student, studying from an old exam or assignment that was not allowed to be circulated, and accepting answer keys or exams that have been stolen or obtained under false pretense.

c. Fabrication includes but is not limited to: Citation of nonexistent sources, attributing an idea to a source that is not contained therein, and/or the invention of data.

d. Lying includes but is not limited to: Requests for special consideration from the instructor based on false information, fabrication of a medical or other emergency as an excuse for needing more time to work on an assignment or for missing an exam, claiming falsely to have completed or turned in an assignment, and falsely reporting an ethics violation by another student.

3. Professors may require students to submit their work through plagiarism detection software programs.

4. Professors may have a plagiarism or academic dishonesty policy that is unique to a specific course and all professors should iterate the university statement on academic dishonesty in course guides. However, whether or not the professor has stated a policy, he or she has the right to take action in cases of academic dishonesty. By accepting a syllabus and seeking credit for a course, a student accepts that the professor or the university has the right to fail them in a course or remove them from a program because of the academic dishonesty.

5. Students found to have committed academic dishonesty are subject to any penalties applied by the professor as well as any institutional penalties that may be exacted. Both the instructor and the university may enforce sanctions.

6. All parties involved in academic dishonesty are considered equally guilty. Students sharing course materials with other students or doing work for other students are as guilty as the students who claimed or used the work or course material.

7. When academic dishonesty occurs, professors are required to report the case and any penalties incurred to the Program Director, who may then notify the applicable Dean of the Graduate Program, Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor and the Provost's office. The or the Provost's office may apply additional sanctions.

8. Multiple incidents of plagiarism or other academic dishonesty may be immediate grounds for dismissal from the university.

9. If it is discovered after a course is completed that a student has earned credit through dishonest means, then the Graduate Council will appoint a committee to review the situation and recommend action. Recommended actions may include, but are not limited to, requiring work to be resubmitted and/or altering grades. Altering of grades may result in a student's degree being rescinded.

INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSE

An independent study course is a regular course taken independently through study and consultation with an instructor. The rationale for enrolling in an independent study course shall be presented by the student to the Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor who will confer with the respective Dean and the supervising instructor. Procedures to be followed in the study as well as target date for completion of the independent study shall be submitted by the student in consultation with the supervising instructor and the Dean. Final action on the request for an independent study will be made by the Office of the Provost. Independent studies are limited to 6 credit hours of a student's academic program. Additional hours require approval of the Dean upon recommendation of the Program Director.

BACHELOR TO MASTER'S PROGRAM

Departments may establish accelerated Bachelor to Master's programs in which qualified undergraduate students are allowed to take graduate courses that count toward undergraduate majors while earning credit toward a graduate degree. Application to the program may be made after a student has earned 75 undergraduate credit hours.

To begin the program, students must earn at least 90 hours of undergraduate credit and have a GPA of at least 3.3. Students may take no more than 6 hours of graduate hours per semester. Students may register for no more than 15 total hours per semester. Students may count no more than 12 hours toward requirements in both graduate and undergraduate programs (double-dipping). Students may earn no more than 18 total graduate hours while an undergraduate.

See the Undergraduate Catalog for Details.

Bachelor to Master's Program Options include:

- Master of Arts - School Counseling
- Master of Business Administration
- Master of Education
- Master of Public Health

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS - GRADUATE

1. Credit in 500/600-level courses taken within this institution will be accepted only for courses in which a grade of C or higher is earned. A cumulative grade-point average of 3.0 (B) in work considered for the degree is required.

2. Applications for graduation must be submitted by the deadlines posted by the Registrar.

3. The program must be completed within seven calendar years, beginning with the first course enrolled in the student's graduate program, following acceptance into the graduate program. The respective Dean and the Provost, upon recommendation of the Program Director, may approve exceptions to the seven-year limit. A student must send a request in writing to the Dean and to his/her Graduate/Adult Student Success Advisor, explaining the reason an extension should be granted and providing a proposed date of completion.

4. Formal commencement exercises are held at least once each year in conjunction with a regularly scheduled graduation exercise of the university. Students may participate in commencement exercises if:

- a. They have met all the academic requirements of their programs, or
- b. They are currently registered for the final class required in their programs, with the coursework being delivered by Concordia University, Nebraska, to be completed in the term following the commencement ceremony.
- c. Requests for exceptions to the requirements above may be made to the Provost.

5. Students may receive only one Master's degree in a program from Concordia University, Nebraska. Students may receive multiple master's degrees if they are from different programs (such as a M.Ed. in Literacy and an M.A. in School Counseling). Education endorsements are awarded for additional emphasis work in the Education program.

- a. Endorsement recipients are not eligible to participate in the Commencement ceremony.
- b. Endorsement recipients will not receive a diploma. The endorsement will be noted on the student's official transcript from Concordia University, Nebraska and reported to the requested State Department of Education.

6. Concordia University, Nebraska does not designate graduation honors such as "High Distinction" or "Distinction" for Master's level graduates.

CRIMINAL BACKGROUND CHECK

Depending upon program, students may be required to sign a release so that Concordia may conduct a criminal background check to meet standards for working with human populations.

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS & PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

Annual Notification

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), a Federal law, affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.

A student should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA.

A student who wishes to ask the University to amend a record should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record the student believes should be changed and specify why he or she believes it should be changed. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested, the University will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student's right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to provide written consent before the University discloses personally identifiable information from the student's education records, except for "directory information" and to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

The University discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using University employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent, clinical facility, NRC, Chartwells, IKON, Harris Connect, ARAMARK, Alumni/Development/Recruiting/Marketing electronic web e-mail community management organizations); a person serving on the Board of Regents; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the University. Upon request, the University also discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5901

Disclosure of Education Records

1. Without prior consent of the student, Concordia University has adopted a practice concerning access to student files in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). The following information is intended to clarify this practice relative to procedures for granting access to information, the kind of information available, and under what circumstances information is made available.

A. Directory Information

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) requires that Concordia University, Nebraska, with certain exceptions, obtain your written consent prior to the disclosure of personally identifiable information from your education records. However, Concordia University, Nebraska may disclose appropriately designated "directory information" without written consent, unless you have advised the University to the contrary in accordance with University procedures. The primary purpose of directory information is to allow Concordia University, Nebraska to include this type of information from your education records in certain school publications.

If you do not want Concordia University, Nebraska to disclose directory information from your education records without your prior written consent, you must notify the Registrar's office. Concordia University, Nebraska has designated the following information as directory information:

Student's name
Participation in officially recognized activities and sports
Address
Telephone listing
Weight and height of members of athletic teams
Electronic mail address
Photograph
Degrees, honors, and awards received Date and place of birth
Major or field of study
Dates of attendance
Grade level
Enrollment status
The most recent educational agency or institution attended.

B. University Officials of Concordia University
University officials with legitimate educational interests in the student's education records are allowed access to student education records. "University official with a legitimate educational interest" is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has a contract or affiliation (such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent, clinical facility, NRC, Chartwells, IKON, Harris Connect, ARAMARK, Alumni/Development/Recruiting/Marketing electronic web e-mail community management organizations); a member of Board of Regents; or a person assisting another University official in performing his or her tasks who needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

C. Other Institutions

The University may release a student's education records to officials of other educational institutions in which that student seeks or intends to enroll or is enrolled.

D. Audit or Evaluation of Federal or State education programs

Authorized representatives of the Comptroller General of the United States, the Attorney General of the United States, the Secretary of Education and state and local educational authorities may have access to student records in connection with the audit and evaluation of Federal or State supported education programs, or in connection with the enforcement of Federal law which relates to such programs.

E. Financial Aid

The University may release a student's education records to persons or organizations in connection with that student's application for, or receipt of, financial aid, to the extent necessary for such purposes as determining eligibility, amount, conditions, and enforcement of terms or conditions of such financial aid.

F. State and local officials pursuant to statute concerning juvenile justice.

The University may release education records to state and local officials that are authorized by statute to access student education records to efficiently serve the student.

G. Organizations conducting studies.

The University may release education records to organizations conducting studies for, or on behalf of, educational agencies or institutions for the purpose of developing, validating, or administering predictive tests, administering student aid programs, and improving instruction, if such studies are conducted in a manner which will not permit the personal identification of students and/or their parents by individuals other than representatives of the organization, and when the information will be destroyed when no longer needed for the purposes for which the study was conducted. The term "organizations" includes, but is not limited to, Federal, State, and local agencies, and independent organizations.

H. Accrediting Organizations

The University may release education records to accrediting organizations in order to carry out their accrediting functions.

I. Judicial order or subpoena

Information concerning a student shall be released in response to a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena. The University will make reasonable efforts to notify the student of an order or subpoena before complying with it, except that the University shall not notify a student of a subpoena if it is from a federal grand jury or is for law enforcement purposes, and it provides that the University shall not disclose to any person the existence or contents of the subpoena, or any information furnished in response to the subpoena. Education records may be disclosed to the U. S. Attorney General or his or her designee in response to an ex parte order concerning an authorized investigation or prosecution of domestic or international terrorism, without prior notice to the student.

J. Health and Safety

The University may disclose student information to persons in an emergency in order to protect the health and safety of the student or others in the University community.

2. Disciplinary Hearing Results

Disclosure to Victims: The University may disclose to an alleged victim of any crime of violence (as that term is defined in Chapter 1, Section 16 of Title 18, United States Code), or a non-forcible sex offense, the final results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the University against the alleged perpetrator of such crime or offense with respect to such crime or offense, regardless of whether the alleged perpetrator was found responsible for violating the University's rules or policies with respect to such crime or offense.

Disclosure to Third Parties: The University may disclose the final results of any disciplinary proceeding against a student who is an alleged perpetrator of any crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense (as those terms are defined in 34 C.F.R. 99.39), if the student is found responsible on or after October 7, 1998, for violating the University's rules or policies with respect to such crime or offense. Such disclosure shall include only the name of the student, the violation committed, and any sanction imposed by the University on that student. Such disclosure may include the name of any other student, such as a victim or witness, only with the written consent of that other student.

3. Disclosure to the Student

The student has the right, on request to the appropriate University official, to review all materials that are in the student's education records, except:

- Financial information submitted by the student's parents.
- Confidential letters and recommendations associated with admissions, employment or job placement, or honors, to which the student has waived rights of inspection and review (the University is not required to permit students to inspect and review confidential letters and recommendations placed in their files prior to January 1, 1975, provided those letters were collected under established policies of confidentiality and were used only for the purposes for which they were collected).
- Education records containing information about more than one student, in which case the University will permit access only to that part of the record that pertains to the inquiring student.

Student education records are maintained at several locations on campus. Student Services has been designated as the official custodian of records. Requests for access to specific student records should be made to the University office or agency concerned with the particular record. Requests for assistance in locating individual student records should be directed in writing to the particular custodian of records. The following offices shall make available the personal records of a student within 45 days of receiving the student's request and required fees:

Academic (including transcripts) - Registrar/Advisor
Student Personnel - Student Services

Placement - Director of Synodical Placement/Director of Career Services
Student Teaching - Coordinator of Student Teaching
Financial Aid Accounts - Office of Financial Aid / Business Office
Admission and Status in Academic Program - Program Director
Health Records - Director of Health Center

Official copies of academic records or transcripts will not be released for students who have a delinquent financial obligation or financial "hold" at the University.

4. Disclosure with Prior Consent of the Student

With the student's prior consent, the University will release personally identifiable student information in education records or allow access to those records. Such consent must be written, signed, and dated, and must specify the records to be disclosed, the party to whom the records are to be disclosed, and the purpose of the disclosure.

Record of Disclosures

The University will maintain with the student's education records a record for each disclosure request and each disclosure made, except disclosures:

- To the student himself or herself.
- Pursuant to the written consent of the student.
- To University officials with legitimate educational interests.
- Pursuant to a law enforcement subpoena when the issuing court or other issuing agency has ordered that the existence or the contents of the subpoena or the information furnished in response to the subpoena not be disclosed or the order is concerning an authorized investigation or prosecution of domestic or international terrorism, or of directory information.

EMERGENCY TRANSFER PROTOCOL

This protocol is designed to facilitate a prompt response from Concordia University in the event, that a closure or probable closure of a college or university creates the possibility of a mass transfer situation. This protocol does not cede any of the faculty's authority over academics. Rather, it represents a proactive step by the faculty to articulate transfer guidelines in advance of unexpected circumstances so that the university can effectively recruit and advise prospective students.

The Provost may enact this protocol if a college or university unexpectedly closes, or a closure appears probable. In that circumstance, the Provost will proceed as follows:

- A. The Provost will seek the consent of the Graduate Council and the Dean to enact the protocol, utilizing email communication if a gathering of the Graduate Council and the Dean cannot expeditiously occur.

B. Should the protocol be enacted, the Provost will inform the Program Directors, and applicable department chairs, as soon as possible.

Transfer Guidelines According to Circumstance

A. For graduate and adult Education programs, Program Directors will determine transferable courses and projected programs of completion, for the students from each closing institution.

B. Specifically, for Degree Completion Programs, the Department of Theology, Philosophy, and Biblical Languages will determine the Theology and Biblical Literacy General Education courses required of the students from each closing institution. Students must complete 120 hours of college coursework (total in career) and meet requirements set out in the Undergraduate Emergency Transfer Protocol.

C. Concordia will strive to make reasonable accommodations to the academic residency requirements in order to facilitate timely graduation of transfer students.

D. The completion of practicum hours will be determined on a case-by-case basis with the Program Director and the Dean.

STUDENT SERVICES

SPIRITUAL CARE

Students may request spiritual care through the university chaplain. Students are encouraged to participate in worship services in their home communities.

STANDARD OF PROGRESS AND CONDUCT FOR VETERAN'S BENEFITS

The following policies pertain to Concordia University graduate and adult students who receive veterans' benefits:

1. For full-time classification, a student must enroll for a minimum of six (6) credit hours per term. Half-time classification is three (3) credit hours per term.

The 2024 -2025 terms will be defined by these dates:

Fall: August 26 - December 21

Spring: January 6 – April 27

Summer: May 8 - August 29

A course is assigned to the term in which it begins. For example, a course beginning on any date between August 26 and December 15 would be listed as a fall course.

2. To graduate, a student must be in good standing and have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0.
3. The last day of attendance is determined by the date on which a withdrawal form is submitted.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

Hospitalization and medical care insurance are not available through the university. The school assumes no liability for injuries except those covered by public liability of workmen's compensation insurance.

THE UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Concordia's bookstore will work with students to get access to the required booklists and order the books before the term begins. Textbook information is available online prior to the start of a course. To contact the bookstore, go to www.cunebookstore.com and click on the email link. There is also a link to the bookstore website on the Home tab in Concordia's portal (portal.cune.edu).

ACADEMIC RESOURCE CENTER

At Concordia University Nebraska, we have academic resources to support you as a student here. The Academic Resource Center (ARC) provides on-campus academic assistance for Concordia students. All students are invited to visit the ARC for one-on-one help with study skills, time management, test-taking skills, and organization. The ARC is located at the south end of the Link Library. Visit our Academic Resource Center webpage for more information.

Concordia has partnered with Pear Deck Tutor to provide tutoring and writing support to all undergraduate and graduate students in over 300 subjects. Pear Deck Tutor provides access to one-on-one, live tutoring and writing support anytime, anywhere, 24/7. Pear Deck Tutor also provides access to an asynchronous writing lab to receive feedback on draft written assignments within 12 hours. Information about Pear Deck Tutor can be found in your courses by clicking the "Pear Deck Tutor" link in your Blackboard course navigation. We are pleased to provide this service to our students for free and encourage you to use it to help you be successful.

Additionally, Concordia is excited to share that ReadSpeaker is available in all your courses on Blackboard! This tool converts written text into natural-sounding speech, making it easier to access and understand your course materials. Perfect for students with reading difficulties, visual impairments, or those who prefer listening to content. Customize the voice, speed, and highlights to suit your needs. Tutorials are available in the "Support" section of your course, and help is available via helpdesk.cune.edu. We are pleased to provide this tool to our students for free and encourage you to use it to help you be successful.

LIBRARY

The university's library has extensive physical and electronic resources available through its own facilities and a statewide borrowing agreement with academic libraries across the state of Nebraska. Concordia students can access these resources through the library website: www.cune.edu/library. Also, through the library website, students can request articles and resources from libraries around the world via interlibrary loan. For any questions, contact the library staff at 1-800-535-5494, Ext. 7254 or via email at library@cune.edu.

ONLINE TUTORING AND WRITING ASSISTANCE

Concordia University, Nebraska is now providing graduate students with access to on-demand, 24/7 online tutoring services from Pear Deck Tutor Service. With this highly interactive online tool, students can chat with a live tutor from any internet connection. Tutors are available to chat one-on-one with students to provide assistance with writing (APA formatting, grammar, mechanics, organization, outlining, thesis development, research, documentation) math and statistics.

CAREER SERVICES OFFICE

The Career Services and Synodical Placement Office assists students through the employment process as they complete their coursework. This office helps with career development, resume building, interview skills, service-learning and internship opportunities, and the LCMS calling process. Students can access the Career Services and Synodical Placement Office via the portal (portal.cune.edu).

COUNSELING SERVICES

The Counseling Office located in Jesse Hall provides short-term counseling services on an outpatient basis to enrolled Concordia University students. Graduate students may access services on the Seward Campus or at the Lincoln Campus. These basic services include:

- Personal and mental health counseling
- Consultation
- Crisis/emergency intervention
- Wellness and mental health education
- Referral assistance

Because the Counseling Office provides short-term outpatient counseling services, students who request or require long term, or more intensive or specialized mental health treatment, will be referred to appropriate community-based counseling services located off-campus. Students who require or request medical or psychiatric care will also be referred to community-based services. Some of these providers are located in Seward, Nebraska, while others--for psychiatric hospitalization and partial hospitalization--are located in Lincoln, Nebraska, located 25 miles from Seward. The counseling office will work with students from other locations to identify appropriate services in their areas.

Eligibility and Fees

Concordia University students seeking counseling services will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, gender, color, national origin, religion, disability, or age. All services are provided free of charge. Students are responsible for any expenses incurred when they use off-campus mental health, medical or psychiatric services.

No-Show and Late Cancellation Policy: The Counseling Office requests that students who cannot make their appointments cancel or reschedule their appointments at least 24 hours in advance.

Confidentiality

Effective counseling requires that clients have assurances about the privacy of their personal health information. Concordia University's Counseling Office staff is committed to treating and using the protected health information of clients responsibly and in accordance with ethical guidelines and state and federal laws.

The Counseling Office's Notice of Health Information Practices describes the personal information the office collects on clients and how and when that information is used or disclosed; as well as a client's rights as they relate to that individual's protected health information. The Notice has been in effect since April 14, 2003, and applies to all protected health information as defined by federal law. The Notice is posted in the Counseling Office and copies of the Notice are available upon request.

Students and others wanting additional information about the Counseling Office's privacy practices, may contact the University Privacy Officer at 402-643-7398, Jesse Hall 101, Concordia University Counseling Office, 800 N. Columbia Ave. Seward, Nebraska, 68434.

Learn more about CUNE counseling services by visiting student services on the portal (portal.cune.edu).

Disability Support Services

Concordia University, in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Subpart E), does not discriminate in the recruitment, admission, or treatment of students. Students with documented disabilities are legally entitled to request reasonable modifications, accommodations, and/or auxiliary aids and services that will enable them to access and have opportunity to participate in all postsecondary educational programs and services.

Who Qualifies?

Under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, a person is considered to have a disability if that person:

- Has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of such person's major life activities,
- Has a record of such an impairment, or
- Is regarded as having such an impairment.

Accessing Disability Support Services

Concordia University is committed to a climate of mutual respect and full participation. In the event you encounter any barrier(s) to full participation in any of the educational programs, activities, or services offered by Concordia due to the impact of a disability (e.g., physical, mental, cognitive) and may need accommodations to fully participate, you are encouraged to contact our Disability Support Services office (DSS). DSS facilitates this process to establish that (a) a student is a person with a disability; (b) the accommodations requested are logical, reasonable, and necessary to facilitate equal access and remove barriers, and; (c) the requested accommodation is reasonable within the appropriate context. You may request accommodations at any time through the Student Health Portal or visit our Disability Support Services webpage for more information. Accommodations are not retroactive, nor do they transfer from institution to institution. To contact the Director of Disability Support Services, please call 402.643.7187 or 800.535.5494 ext. 7187 or email ada@cune.edu.

Student Responsibilities

As a student with a disability, to be otherwise qualified means you have to meet the same academic requirements and standards as non-disabled students. These requirements and standards must be considered necessary to maintain the integrity of a course, program or college policy. It also means you are required to meet instructors' expectations for students in regard to class participation, work standards, attendance and ability to demonstrate acquired knowledge.

CONFIDENTIAL CRIME REPORTING

The University Chaplain and Counselors in Concordia's Counseling Office, when acting as such, are not considered to be a campus security authority and are not required to report crimes for inclusion into the annual disclosure of crime statistics. As a matter of policy, they are encouraged, if and when they deem it appropriate, to inform persons being counseled of the procedures to report crimes on a voluntary basis for inclusion into the annual crime statistics.

CRIMESTATISTICS DISCLOSURE

Concordia University is required by law to provide a report of annual crime statistics to the public and the U.S. Department of Education. This report must address crimes of aggravated assault, arson, burglary, manslaughter, motor vehicle theft, murder, robbery, and sex offenses. Also, alcohol, drug, and weapons offenses whether reported to local law enforcement or referred for campus disciplinary action through the Student Life office, must be reported.

The University Student Information Compliance Officer prepares this report to comply with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act. The full text of this report can be located on our website at www.cune.edu/rtk and in hard copy in the Student Life Office. You will also be able to connect to our site via the CUNE home page at www.cune.edu. This report is prepared in cooperation with the local law enforcement agencies surrounding our main campus and alternative sites, and campus security. Each entity provides updated information on their educational efforts and programs to comply with the Act. Each year an e-mail notification is made to all enrolled students that provides the web site to access this report.

Faculty and staff receive similar notification with their

Campus crime, arrest and referral statistics include those reported to campus security authorities, which includes: campus security, Director of Student Life, Director of Student Health Center, Director of Counseling Services and designated campus officials who have significant responsibilities for student and campus activities (including but not limited to directors, deans, department heads, advisors to students/student organizations, athletic representatives, resident assistants and resident coordinators), and local law enforcement agencies.

CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY COPYRIGHT COMPLIANCE POLICY

Grounded in the U.S. Constitution, copyright law grants protection to original works of authorship fixed in a tangible means of expression. That includes just about anything that is written, recorded, built, or crafted, whether published or unpublished. It even covers websites and the images on them. If you want to use, sample, or make a copy of all or part of a work created by someone else, you need to first determine how copyright law applies to your situation. Using something for a class assignment does NOT automatically make it "fair use".

Concordia's full copyright policy is on the library's copyright page: <https://cune.libguides.com/copyright/>. There you find tools to help figure out whether your intended use is "fair" and learn how to locate resources that are free to use.

DAILY CRIME LOG

A daily crime log, as required by the Clery Act through the U.S. Department of Education, is available during business hours at Buildings and Grounds in the Maintenance Building in Seward. The daily crime log compiles all crimes reported to campus security during the most recent 60- day period. It is available within two business days upon request.

DISCRIMINATION

Concordia University, Nebraska is committed to preventing unlawful discrimination and harassment. (See Grievance and Harassment Procedures for more information.)

TUITION AND FEE PAYMENT

Students will be registered for classes after they have applied and been accepted to Concordia University. Prior to the beginning of each term/module, each student registered for classes will receive an email notification sent to their student cune.org email account directing them to view the term charges online through Concordia's portal (portal.cune.edu). This notification is sent approximately three weeks prior to the start of each term/module or upon registration.

Payment, for all classes in the term, must be received by the payment deadline date as indicated in the graduate and adult education academic calendar. For example, you may be registered for two, eight-week courses which span a traditional semester and, as such, tuition for both courses will be due at the start date of the first course.

Payment can be satisfied by paying the full amount due, arranging a monthly payment plan, or securing financial aid. Online payments (in full or monthly payment plans) are made through the portal (portal.cune.edu). Checks should be made payable to "Concordia University, Nebraska" and mailed to:

Concordia University
Student Financial Services, JCC 204,
800 North Columbia Avenue
Seward NE 68434.

Please indicate the student's ID number on the memo line of the check.

Students with unpaid balances are subject to classes being dropped for non-payment (see Administrative Drop policy below). Any unpaid balance is subject to a late fee and the account being placed on hold preventing registering for future classes, receiving a transcript (either official or unofficial), or receiving a diploma. Delinquent accounts are subject to being referred to a collection agency for further action.

Please note, payment plans are not available for past due balances.

GRADUATE REFUND POLICY

Adds:

A currently registered student may add a class during the first week of the module prior to 5:00 pm on Friday.

Student-Initiated Drops:

A student may drop his or her registration from a course by 5 pm Central Time on Wednesday of the second week of class. This is to ensure proper processing before 5 pm on Friday so that students will be eligible for a 100% tuition refund. A drop is a change in registration and is not entered into the student's official grade transcript. A 100% tuition refund will be issued to the student's account.

Administrative Drops:

- A student who has not paid their tuition balance by either securing financial aid, arranging a monthly payment plan, or paying in full by Friday of the second week of class may be administratively withdrawn from the university.
- A student who is a non-participant/non-attende in the first ten days of class, may be considered a "no show" and will be administratively dropped on the tenth day (Wednesday). This is to ensure proper processing before 5 pm Central Time on Friday so that students will be eligible for a 100% tuition refund. This drop constitutes a change in registration and is not entered into the student's official grade transcript. A 100% tuition refund will be issued to the student's account.

Academic attendance and academically related activity for an online/distance education student includes:

- Student submission of an academic assignment.
- Student submission of an exam.
- Documented student participation in an interactive tutorial or computer- assisted instruction.
- A posting by the student showing the student's participation in an online study group that is assigned by the institution.
- A posting by the student in a discussion forum showing the student's participation in an online discussion about academic matters.
- E-mail from the student or other documentation showing that the student-initiated contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course.

The definition of academic attendance and academically related activity does not include activities where a student may be present, but not academically engaged, such as:

- Living in institutional housing.
- Participating in the university's meal plan.
- Participating in a student-organized study group.
- Logging into an online class without active participation; or
- Participation in academic counseling or advising.

A student's self-certification of attendance in an academically related activity must be supported by institutional documentation of the student's attendance in the activity.

Withdrawals:

After the ten day drop period, a student may withdraw from a class any time up to the withdrawal date by contacting their Student Service Representative/Advisor. When approved, a

"W" will be recorded on the student's official record. This will not count in the student's GPA; however, it will count in the number of hours attempted. Any tuition refund for a withdrawal will follow the appropriate refund schedule per class length.

After the withdrawal deadline, a student may not withdraw from a class. A letter grade will be posted for work completed for the class. If a student stops attending in the judgment of the Student Services Representative, after consulting with the instructor, then the student will be administratively dropped or withdrawn no later than 14 days after the student's last date of attendance. If he/she is administratively withdrawn, a grade of "W" will be recorded on the official transcript by the Graduate Registrar upon notification by the Student Services Representative. The student's tuition refund is based on the date of the submission of the withdrawal form. After the withdrawal deadline, a student may not be withdrawn from a class.

If a student stops attending after the withdrawal deadline, the final grade will be based on the work completed on the last date of attendance as compared to the requirements of the full course which may result in the grade of "F" being recorded on the official transcript. No tuition refund will be available. The grade will count in the student's GPA, and it will count toward the number of hours attempted.

Whenever a student is awarded a final grade of "F" for a course, the instructor must record a Last Date of Attendance along with the final grade. Passing grades do not require a Last Date of Attendance.

- Earned F: Enter the last date of the module.
- If the student attended through the end of the course, the instructor should record the last scheduled date of the course as the Last Date of Attendance. (Considered to be an Earned F.)
- Unearned F: Enter the Last Date of Attendance.
- If the student did not attend through the end of the course, the instructor should enter the Last Date of Attendance (Considered an Unearned F).

Withdrawal Deadline:

The withdrawal deadline is three weeks prior to the end of the course. The withdrawal deadline dates will be determined and published by the Registrar for each term.

PLEASE NOTE: Changes in enrollment may lead to funding owed back to the university due to unearned portions of aid already disbursed to the student. Should an outstanding balance result, a registration hold will be initiated, and the student will not be allowed to register or receive copies of academic transcripts until the balance is paid in full. Before making decisions to drop or withdraw, the student should contact the Student Financial Services Office for more information.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS (SAP)

A student must maintain satisfactory academic progress to continue taking classes. The requirements are to maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 or higher for Graduate Students and a 2.0 or higher for undergraduate students.

Additional Financial Aid requirements include that a student must complete at least 67% of all classes attempted to remain eligible for aid.

Please note: Classes dropped before or within the two week drop period will not count toward the number of attempted hours or the student's GPA. Classes from which a student has withdrawn will count toward the number of hours attempted but will not count in his/her GPA.

Please refer to www.cune.edu/sap for complete review of the SAP policy.

VETERAN'S BENEFITS AND TRANSITION ACT OF 2018

It is the policy of Concordia University that any individual who is entitled to educational assistance under Chapter 31, Vocational Rehabilitation, or Chapter 33, Post 9/11 GI Bill® benefits shall be permitted to attend or participate in their course of education from the date that they provide to Concordia a Certificate of Eligibility (COE) and at least until the date on which payment is received from the VA, or 90 days after the date that tuition and fees are certified following receipt of the COE.

Concordia University will not impose any penalty, such as late fees, denial of access to classes, libraries, or other facilities, or require that a student entitled to VA benefits borrow additional funds because of an inability to meet financial obligations to Concordia due to a delay in disbursement of funding from the Department of Veterans Affairs under Chapter 31 or 33.

Statement of Compliance with section 1018 of Isakson and Roe

Concordia University Nebraska provides students using benefits under Chapter 30,31,32,33,94 35 of Title 38

U.S.C. or Chapter 1606 of Title 10, U.S.C. with a personalized shopping sheet. Information on this shopping sheet includes: Estimated total cost of a program, including tuition, fees, books, supplies, and other additional costs

Estimated cost of living expenses plus costs listed above that are covered by VA Education Benefits

- Other types of Federal financial aid offered by the institution that is not administered by VA but that covered students may be qualified to receive
- Estimated amount of student loan debt a student would have on graduation
- Other information to facilitate comparison by the individual about financial aid packages offered by different educational institutions

The personalized shopping sheet will be provided within 15 days after tuition and fees are determined for a calendar year if there is a change.

CALLED TO ACTIVE MILITARY DUTY

It is the intent of Concordia University, Nebraska to facilitate the withdrawal or change in registration and the reenrollment of students who are called to active military duty. If called to active duty in the U.S. armed forces, students may withdraw and receive a full refund of tuition and fees for that semester. The student (or a representative) should take a copy of the military orders to the Registrar's office to process withdrawal or change in registration. Withdrawal for active military service will have no effect on any subsequent request to withdraw from the University. Students may re-enroll upon completion of their tour of duty.

The University policy governing military call-ups allows for a variety of unique solutions not covered by University policy (such as receiving incompletes in some classes while retro-withdrawing from others leading to a partial refund; or receiving a total refund of tuition and fees) which minimizes the effects of time and financial investment put into a semester already in progress when you are called to active military service.

You will need a copy of your orders. You should first consult with your advisor. Based on the specific course(s) in which you are enrolled and the point in the semester when the call-up occurs, you may be advised to discuss incomplete contracts with individual instructor or be directed immediately to the Registrar's office.

The Registrar and Student Financial Services staff will make determinations as to appropriate withdrawal procedures and refunds and explain the process for re-enrollment after completing active duty. They will also assist with quick referrals related to financial aid issues, cancellation of any campus housing contracts, and allowable refunds.

Master of Arts

Marriage and Family Therapy

Program Overview

The Master of Arts in Marriage and Family Therapy will prepare students for licensure in the state of Nebraska and aligns with the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education (COAMFTE) to fully prepare graduates to apply for licensure in their state of residence. Students will be trained and equipped to assess, diagnose, and treat individuals, couples, families, and groups. The program is online in synchronous and asynchronous format, with 62-64 credit hours required, determined by options for the clinical practicum (see Foundational Practice Component).

OBJECTIVES

Graduate candidates of the Master of Arts in Marriage & Family Therapy program will be skilled in the competency areas outlined by the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education (COAMFTE). The COAMFTE Developmental Competency Components refer to the primary areas of professional learning and skill development central to the effective and ethical practice of a future Marriage and Family Therapy professional. The graduate candidate will secure the knowledge, abilities and skills, and attitudes required for each of these 5 areas:

- Knowledge of the profession
- Practice of therapy
- Human diversity and social structures
- Professional identity, ethics, and law; and
- Research and evidence-based practice.

This framework is intended to encompass historical, current, and future elements of MFT professional identity and practice, and to organize student learning outcomes expected of a graduate of the COAMFTE Accredited program.

Through the courses identified in CUNE's program, Marriage and Family Therapist candidates will be provided opportunities to demonstrate the dispositions and competencies required by the following outcomes:

- I. Apply knowledge of family science/therapy in a culturally appropriate manner to various demographic groups.
- II. Demonstrate awareness of one's personal narrative and faith identity and apply concepts to individual contributions to the field of marriage and family therapy.
- III. Become ethically grounded clinicians, demonstrate integrity, and operate within the laws of the profession.
- IV. Utilize a variety of theoretical approaches to marriage and family therapy.
- V. Effectively generate lifespan family educational applications for children, adolescents and adults in the study of human growth, development, and sexuality; family dynamics and resource management; parent education and guidance; family life education and interpersonal relationships.

PROGRAM

The Marriage and Family Therapy program offers an intensive 62-64-credit-hour experience, which can be completed within two years (may be extended due to clinical practicum requirements). Courses are offered online, with synchronous sessions as well as asynchronous assignments and additional coursework. Courses are aligned with the Graduate calendar until the course requirements are met.

Marriage and Family Therapy students must attend two residencies on campus. Students must join their cohort on campus at Concordia, Nebraska, to meet with faculty and receive additional information on various topics applicable to the program.

MFT Relational/Systemic Philosophy is a framework for how MFTs view the world. This perspective focuses on relationships, including patterns of interaction between individuals that organize relationship dynamics with an emphasis on what is happening rather than why it is happening. Relational systems comprised of individuals are seen as self-organizing, dynamic entities embedded in contexts of larger systems and function both as subsystems and supersystems with biopsychosocial influence. Recognizing and respecting the relational field of interconnection and influence serves as the foundation for professional efforts to engage others, make meaning, and participate in change.

Foundational Practice Component is the practicum and/or internship phase of the program associated with the foundational curriculum, where students apply what they are learning in clinical practice. The foundational practice component requires a minimum of 300 direct clinical contact hours with individuals, couples, families, or other systems, at least 100 of which must be relational hours that occur over a minimum of twelve months of clinical practice. Students must receive at least 100 hours of MFT relational/systemic supervision from a program clinical supervisor on a regular and consistent basis while seeing clients. MFT relational/systemic supervision can be individual MFT relational/systemic supervision or group MFT relational/systemic supervision and must include a minimum of 50 hours of MFT relational/systemic supervision utilizing observable data.

Group MFT relational/systemic supervision consists of one supervisor and eight or fewer students. Regardless of the number of program clinical supervisors present, a group cannot exceed eight students to qualify for group relational/systemic supervision. Individual MFT relational/systemic supervision is defined as one supervisor with one or two supervisees. MFT Relational/Systemic Supervision may be provided through virtual supervision.

Supervision is distinguishable from psychotherapy or teaching.

Regulatory Requirements are the licensing laws of the state, province, or location where the program resides. Concordia University's program prepares students for licensure in Nebraska. Additional information about other states and contact information for all states that have MFT regulations can be found on the AMFTRB website at <https://amftrb.org/> and the Registry for Canadian Marriage and Family Therapy (RMFT) website at <https://camft.ca/>

School Counseling

Track 1 – 50 credit hours serving already certified teachers
 Track 2 – 62 credit hours serving those without a teaching credential

Program Overview

The Master of Arts in School Counseling will prepare students for work and Nebraska licensure as PK-12 school counselors. This is a two-track program. Track 1 includes 50 credit hours serving already certified teachers, and Track 2 includes an additional 12 credit hours for those without a teaching credential. Our program aligns with the American School Counseling Association's (ASCA) National Model and school counselor competencies. Therefore, graduates will be fully equipped to design, implement, deliver, and assess comprehensive school counseling programs.

Objectives

Graduate candidates will be skilled in the competency areas as outlined by the American School Counseling Association (ASCA) and the Rule 24 Endorsement Guidelines directed by the Nebraska Department of Education (NDE).

These competency requirements can be broken up into five general areas. The graduate candidate will secure the knowledge, abilities and skills, and attitudes required for each of these five areas:

School Counseling Program

Foundations

Management

Delivery

Accountability

Through the courses identified in CUNE's program, school counselor candidates will be provided opportunities to demonstrate the dispositions and competencies required by the following guidelines:

SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAM

School counselor candidates will possess the knowledge, abilities, skills, and attitudes necessary to plan, organize, implement, and evaluate a comprehensive, developmental, results-based school counseling program that aligns with the American School Counselor Association (ASCA) National Model: A Framework for School Counseling Programs (Third Edition 2012 or most current). Specifically, our students upon completion of our program, will meet the following standards:

Standard 1. School counselors shall articulate and demonstrate an understanding of:

Element 1. Their role as leaders who collaborate with stakeholders to improve student achievement, and who are uniquely positioned to be student advocates and systems change agents.

Element 2. Individual counseling, group counseling, and classroom guidance programs ensuring equitable access to resources that promote academic achievement; personal, social, and emotional development; and career development including the identification of appropriate postsecondary education for every student to be college and career ready.

Element 3. Educational systems, philosophies, and current trends in education, including federal and state legislation and education initiatives.

Element 4. Measurement and assessment literacy
Element 5. The continuum of mental health services, including prevention, intervention, and referrals strategies to enhance student success.

Element 6. Theories of development, learning, social justice, counseling, career development, and cultural competence as well as students with diverse needs.

Element 7. Legal and ethical issues unique to school counseling.

FOUNDATION

Standard 2. School counselor candidates will possess the knowledge, abilities, skills, and attitudes necessary to design the Foundation component and implement the elements in a school counseling program, including:

Element 1. Program focus complete with beliefs, benefits, vision, and outcomes, for students and for the school counseling program.

Element 2. Student School Counseling Standards & Competencies

A. Mindsets and Behaviors – National School Counseling standards

B. Local, district, and state academic standards

C. Nebraska Career Readiness Standards (employability skills)

Element 3. ASCA Professional School Counselor Competencies (Our course benchmarks are taken directly from these.)

II. MANAGEMENT

Standard 3. School counselor candidates will possess the knowledge, abilities, skills, and attitudes necessary to design the Management component and implement these elements in a school counseling program, including:

Element 1. Use school counselor competency assessment and school counseling program assessments.

Element 2. Use current and emerging technology to efficiently manage the school counseling program.

Element 3. Use time assessment to measure and determine that 80% of time is spent in direct and indirect services as recommended.

Element 4. Create annual agreements with administrators. Element 5. Establish advisory councils to review and make recommendations for the program.

Element 6. Use data to measure results of the school counseling program.

Element 7. Prepare action plans detailing how the school counselor intends to achieve results in school counseling curriculum, small groups, and closing-the-gap activities. Element 8. Develop lesson plans, design curriculum, implement classroom management strategies, and differentiated instructional strategies.

Element 9. Create annual and weekly calendars to provide information about program activities.

III. DELIVERY

Standard 4. School counselor candidates will possess the knowledge, abilities, skills, and attitudes necessary to design the Delivery component and implement the elements of a school counseling program in classroom school counseling lessons, small group activities, and individual counseling/student planning sessions.

Element 1. Direct Services in Academic Development: Develop a program for PK-12 Academic Development.

Develop an Academic Development program to teach effective learning strategies, self-management behaviors, and related skills for academic achievement. The program includes academic counseling and advisement to access higher education. Content should include: transitions strategies through the PreK-12 and to postsecondary education, instruction of postsecondary entrance requirements, education planning, academic growth mindsets, knowledge of grading, transcripts, registering for courses/activities aligned to goals, assessments, access to special academic programs, career academies, advanced placement, dual credit, college early entry, or other educational opportunities, and related skills needed for academic achievement aligned to postsecondary and career goals of students.

Element 2. Direct Services in Career Development: Develop a program for PreK-12 College and Career Readiness.

Develop a Career Development program that includes self-awareness, career exploration, and career planning and management. Content should include: NDE- Nebraska Career Education and Career Technical Education resources; Nebraska Career Readiness Standards; Postsecondary access and financial aid resources from Nebraska Education Quest Foundation; transition activities and planning for all students, including students with disabilities.

Element 3. Direct Services in Social/Emotional Development: Develop a program for PreK-12 Social Emotional Development.

Develop a Social Emotional Learning program to support students to acquire and effectively apply the knowledge, attitudes, and skills necessary to understand and manage emotions, set, and achieve positive goals, feel, and show empathy for others, appreciate diversity, establish and maintain positive relationships, and make responsible decisions to improve achievement.

Element 4. Direct Services for Individual Student Planning: Develop a program for Individual Student Planning, a document, and a process that students use- with support from school counselors, teachers, and parents to define career goals and postsecondary plans to inform decisions for registration of courses and activities throughout high school that lead to graduation and college and career access.

Element 5. Direct Services for Responsive Services: Develop a program for Responsive Services-- designed to help students resolve academic, career, and social/emotional issues--including counseling, crisis response, and referral resources within the school and community.

Element 6. Develop a program for Indirect Services-to promote student achievement and to improve equity and access for all students. Indirect Services may include strategies for referral processes, consultation, collaboration, and parent/family engagement, establishing community partnerships and/or development of new evidence-based programs to support student achievement.

IV. ACCOUNTABILITY

Standard 5. School counselor candidates will possess the knowledge, abilities, skills, and attitudes necessary to design the Accountability component and implement these elements in a school counseling program:

Element 1. School Data Profile Analysis: Provide summary of school achievement, attendance, behavior, safety, assessments, dual credit participation, course taking patterns, college and career readiness, graduation rate, postsecondary going rate, parent participation etc. Element 2. Use-of-Time Assessment Analysis: School counselor will plan for 80% or more of their time on direct and indirect student services.

Element 3. Program Results-Analysis: Develop school counseling program results reports to ensure effectiveness and to inform decisions related to program improvement using curriculum results, small-group results and closing-the-gap results.

Element 4. Share results and goals of the school counseling program to stakeholders regularly, employing school counselor skills of leadership, advocacy, and systemic change for the benefit of all students to higher achievement.

Element 5. Evaluation and Improvement: The school counselor will self-assess using the ASCA School Counselor competencies and ethics and participate in a school counselor performance appraisal with school administration. The school counselor will conduct program assessments to evaluate goals and results of the school counseling program.

Furthermore, CUNE school counseling graduate candidates will meet the PK-12 endorsement standards required for Nebraska.

Standard 6. School Related Field Experiences for a School Counselor candidate must include at least 100 clock-hours in school settings at the grade levels of the endorsement in one or more components of the ASCA National Model (i.e., Foundation, Management, Delivery, and/or Accountability) prior to the internship experience.

Standard 7. Internship experiences must include a minimum of 450 clock-hours under the supervision of a certified school counselor, and demonstration of the competencies in these guidelines. The internship experiences must take place in a school setting at the grade levels of the endorsement.

One hundred eighty (180) of the 450 clock-hours must be in direct service, including but not limited to, individual and group counseling, individual student planning, or developmental classroom guidance. Exceptions to the grade level requirements may be granted by the program director.

Program Overview

The Master of Education Degree program is designed to provide advanced education for elementary and secondary school administrators, early childhood educators, English as second language educators, literacy educators, curriculum and instruction educators, and special education educators. All programs are approved by the Nebraska State Department of Education and accredited by The Higher Learning Commission, a Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (www.ncahigherlearningcommission.org; 312-263-0456) and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Educated people in a democratic society promote a congenial community where its citizens put the common good above self-interest. Empowered by the Gospel, the church in mission strives to nurture its members through God's revelation. Education, one assisting process, seeks to help people become less self-centered and more responsive to society and the church's aims.

Capable Christian teachers, qualified to meet the needs of children, youth and adults, aid society and the church in achieving their goals.

The university accepts its mission in teacher education: preparing competent Christian teachers for the elementary and secondary schools of the LCMS and for the public schools in Nebraska and other states. Furthermore, Concordia University demonstrates acceptance of this mission by developing and maintaining quality Master's and certificate/endorsement-only programs.

Current statements of Concordia's philosophy of education and specific objectives for its teacher education programs are available in the Office of the Dean of the College of Education.

Objectives

Graduate candidates who complete a Master of Education Degree will be able to demonstrate:

1. The ability to complete a program of advanced study and a commitment to continuous, self-directed professional growth.
2. Growth in their ability to minister to those with whom they work, recognizing each individual's unique potential because of God's creative and redemptive acts.
3. Growth in their understanding of the knowledge base of teaching, leading, and learning.
4. Increased understanding of the history and philosophy of education.
5. An understanding of the significance and complexities of educational research.
6. The ability and commitment to implement a Christian educational world view that transcends human disadvantages, disabilities, and cultural, sexual, and social biases.
7. An appreciation of the place and contribution of school and church to society; and
8. Growth in strengthening a professional need or interest area.

Required Background Check

Specific Master of Education programs require a background check to be completed through Castle Branch. Detailed requirements are in the specific section of the catalog for these programs. Students will be provided with the information to register for the background check through Castle Branch during the enrollment process and will also have the same information embedded in the first course that they are enrolled in. The only exception to this requirement would be if the student has a valid teaching certificate, at which point the student must email a copy of that certificate to the applicable Program Director to verify.

- Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction with Educational Studies Concentration – 30 to 36 hours (This program is only available to active students in the Teach-Out program who are unable to complete the Teach-Out program by February 19, 2022.)

Prerequisites

Completion of an undergraduate degree that meets Concordia's graduate admissions requirements is the educational prerequisite for this program.

A valid Nebraska teaching certificate is required if a Nebraska ESL or Instructional Technology Leadership endorsement is desired. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska must contact that state to determine if the program will provide an endorsement in that state.

Program Overview

Concordia University, Nebraska's Master of Education in Curriculum, and Instruction (C&I) is a 30-hour, non-thesis innovative, inquiry-based program with a focus on professional development and the InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards with the following structure:

- A common core of coursework designed to increase graduate candidates' skill levels and knowledge base (6 credit hours)
- Best practice in curriculum instruction and design (9 credits)
- Assessment analysis and application, leadership development, and educational research (9 credits)
- A practicum proposal and 45-hour practicum in each candidate's interest area, meeting the goals and objectives of their own professional development plans (6 credits).

The goal of the Curriculum and Instruction Master's program is to provide an opportunity for practicing teachers and other educational professionals to enhance their understanding and expertise in the following areas to improve candidates' performance, while also providing the training and credentials to become engaged, forward-thinking administrators, educational leaders, advocates, and life-long learners:

- Development of differentiated curriculum to meet the needs of diverse learners.
- Analysis, interpretation, and application of standardized assessment data within the curriculum.
 - Instructional strategies.
 - Best practice, and
 - Educational research.

Note: this program also offers several supplemental endorsement options including:

- A supplemental ESL endorsement which requires a 45 clock-hour practicum (EDUC 527).
- A supplemental Instructional Technology Leadership endorsement which requires no additional hours to the 36 program credits. The 5 courses (15 hours) designated with can also be taken independently for the endorsement only.

- The Master of Education in C&I. with a Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts & Math (STEAM) emphasis is designed for PK-12 teachers who wish to integrate STEAM into their classroom and become STEAM teacher leaders at their school. The coursework for this program includes two education core courses (6 hours), and six STEAM-focused courses (18 hours), a capstone course (3 hours), and a practicum course (3 hours). This program requires a valid K-12 teaching credential. The STEAM courses focus on:

- Teaching and learning of STEAM
- Integrating STEAM in the classroom
- Introducing the engineering design process to students
- Integrating the arts in STEAM
- Teaching STEAM to diverse learners
- STEAM teacher leadership
- Assessment of student learning

- STEAM instruction

Candidates will also complete a capstone and practicum, focused on STEAM, so that they can apply what they learn to their own classrooms and schools.

The trauma and resilience emphasis prepares students to become trauma-informed leaders in their schools, school districts, or communities. Students in the program will graduate with an understanding and use of trauma-informed and resilience building practices for students, schools, and communities. The program will prepare students in two areas that are currently a focus in many schools and communities: how to respond effectively to student trauma and building the resilience necessary to thrive and learn.

Concordia offers this program in a cohort format; a small group, or cohort, takes the same classes at the same time. This format fosters life-long, professional relationships and offers invaluable peer support. Courses take eight weeks to complete. Classes are offered online. Candidates will finish the program in two years.

Objectives

1. Graduate candidates who complete this program will be able to: Integrate theory with reflective practice.
2. Evaluate and improve processes of curriculum development.
3. Remain current with regard to educational issues, individualized instruction, assessment, and the elements of best practice.
4. Engage in collaborative learning with colleagues who offer similar, as well as diverse, backgrounds, experiences, and views.
5. Facilitate their development as life-long learners, who are capable of informing their instructional practices through appropriate application of research results.
6. Enhance leadership skills, dispositions, and practices.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Program Options

- Master of Education with Early Childhood Emphasis – 30 hours
- Master of Education with Early Childhood Endorsement (PK-Grade 3) – 30 hours
- Master of Education with Early Childhood Inclusive (B-Grade 3) with Nebraska Initial Teacher Certification – 57 hours
- Early Childhood Endorsement only (PK-Grade 3) – 18 hours
- Master of Early Childhood Special Education (Birth-K) – 36 hours
- Early Childhood Special Education Endorsement only (Birth-K) – 30 hours

Prerequisites

Completion of an undergraduate degree that meets Concordia's graduate admission requirements is the educational prerequisite for these programs.

The Master of Education with Early Childhood Endorsement is a supplemental endorsement not an initial certification. To be eligible for a Nebraska supplemental endorsement, candidates must hold an elementary education (K-6) endorsement. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska, must contact that state to determine if the program will provide an endorsement in that state.

The Early Childhood Inclusive (B - Grade 3) is a Master's Program that leads to Nebraska Initial Teacher Certification. Candidates from states other than Nebraska will be eligible for the Nebraska Teaching Certificate. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska, must contact that state to determine if the program will provide a teaching certificate or endorsement in that state.

Program Overview

The Master of Education with an Early Childhood emphasis is a good choice for candidates who are interested in advanced study in the field of early childhood education (birth through grade 3). This 30-hour Master program of study includes eligibility for Nebraska early childhood endorsement for those candidates who hold a valid Nebraska Elementary Education endorsement. Candidates who choose to earn the Master's degree with Early Childhood emphasis, are not required to hold a teaching certificate.

Both the 30-hour Master program and the 18-hour supplemental endorsement program require candidates to complete 45 clock hours of approved practicum with prekindergarten and kindergarten children.

The 57-hour Early Childhood Inclusive B-3rd program allows candidates to obtain an initial teaching license in classrooms for children Birth through 3rd Grade. Candidates are required to complete 100 clock hours of field experience before 16 weeks of non-paid clinical practice (student teaching). Upon completion of the program, candidates applying for the Nebraska teaching certificate must provide evidence they have taken the required Praxis II content test and received the required passing score.

The Master of Education with Early Childhood Emphasis and Endorsement are fully accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). The Master of Education with Early Childhood Inclusive, Nebraska Initial Teaching Certification is fully accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP).

Classes are offered online. Candidates can finish the 18-hour or 30-hour program in two years or may apply for an expedited program of completion.

Objectives

Graduate candidates who complete this program will be able to:

1. Articulate and demonstrate a clear and advanced understanding of child development and child psychology.
2. Establish and maintain an environment that ensures children's safety and their healthy development
3. Plan and implement developmentally appropriate curriculum activities that advance all areas of children's development and learning including social, emotional, intellectual, physical, spiritual, and aesthetic components.
4. Increase skill and knowledge of techniques that assist the young child in language development and emergent literacy.
5. Understand and process the current research and issues in early childhood education.
6. Understand and promote the need to establish supportive relationships with children in implementing developmentally appropriate techniques of guidance and group management.
7. Understand and promote the importance of establishing positive, productive relationships with families.

8. Support the uniqueness of each child, recognizing that children are best understood in the context of their family, culture, and society.

9. Develop a cultural awareness and appreciation for diversity and individual differences including race, gender, socio-economic status, language, and special needs.

10. Develop an increased awareness and proficiency in organizing and managing an early childhood center striving for high standards of NAEYC/LCMS accreditation.

11. Understand, promote, and implement techniques for developmentally appropriate assessment of young children's learning.

12. Promote the need to implement a positive team approach to working with other professionals and support staff.

13. Articulate and demonstrate an understanding of the early childhood profession and make a commitment to professionalism, including continuous personal professional growth.

- Master of Education with Early Childhood Special Education Endorsement – 36 hours
- Early Childhood Special Education Endorsement only – 30 hours

Prerequisites

Completion of an undergraduate degree that meets Concordia's graduate admission requirement is the educational prerequisite for this program.

A valid Nebraska teaching certificate is required if a Nebraska endorsement is desired. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska must contact that state to determine if the program will provide an endorsement in that state.

Program Overview

The Master of Education with an Early Childhood Special Education Emphasis is a good choice for candidates who are interested in advanced study in the field of early childhood special education (birth through Kindergarten). This 36-hour program of study includes eligibility for a Nebraska early childhood special education teaching certification for those candidates who hold a valid Nebraska teaching certificate. To be eligible for certification, the Nebraska Department of Education requires candidates to complete 100 practicum hours of direct contact with children ages birth through seven. As part of the practicum experience, candidates must complete at least 20 clock hours assisting families and children with verified disabilities at each of the following levels: birth to age three, ages three to five, and ages five to seven.

This program is fully accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

Classes are offered online. Candidates may finish the program in two years. Upon completion of the program, candidates applying for the Nebraska endorsement must provide evidence they have taken the required Praxis II content test and received the required passing score.

Additional Endorsements for Nebraska Teaching Certificates:

Additional endorsements may be added to an existing Nebraska Teaching Certificate. Students seeking an endorsement for a grade level not held on a current certificate must successfully complete eight weeks of student teaching at the new grade level. Students must contact the university to register for student teaching. The university will make special arrangements for student teaching placement on an individual basis.

Objectives

The Master of Education in Early Childhood Special Education directly aligns with the established professional standards by the Council for Exceptional Children for teachers in the field of special education. Candidates who complete the MEd in Early Childhood Special Education program will:

EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

Program Options

- Master of Education, Educational Administration with Principal Endorsement (36 hours)
 - Principal Elementary PK - 8
 - Principal Secondary 7 - 12

- Principal Dual PK – 12 (45 hours)
- Master of Education, Educational Administration for Christian Schools with Principal Endorsement (36 hours)
 - Principal Elementary PK - 8
 - Principal Secondary 7 - 12
 - Principal Dual PK – 12 (45 hours)

Prerequisites

Additional requirements that must be met prior to certification in the State of Nebraska can be found on the Nebraska Department of Education Teacher Certification website located at: <http://www.education.ne.gov/TCERT/index.html>

Candidates seeking administrator certification in Nebraska must hold a current Nebraska teaching certificate and must have the equivalent of two (2) full school years teaching experience in approved/accredited elementary, middle, and/or secondary schools. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska, must contact that state to determine if the program will provide an endorsement in that state.

Program Overview

The Educational Administration and Educational Administration for Christian Schools Programs at Concordia University Nebraska are designed to prepare educators to serve and be certified as school administrators. The prescribed sequences fulfill the educational requirement for certification as a PK- 8, 7 – 12, or PK – 12 principal in the State of Nebraska. Practicum hours totaling 250 at the same level of certification are required for graduation in all Educational Administration programs.

Single Certification Requirements (PK–8 OR 7–12 Principal)

Thirty-six graduate credit hours of coursework are required for the principal endorsement at the same level as the teacher’s certificate. Practicum hours for the single certification are a total of 250 hours at the same grade levels as the teacher certification. Individuals seeking a principal endorsement at a level different from their teaching certification must complete an additional 9 credit hours, for a total of 45 graduate credit hours in the Dual Certification PK – 12 Program.

Dual Certification Requirements (PK -12 Principal)

Dual certification may be sought at both elementary and secondary levels by meeting the requirements of both levels. The additional nine graduate credit hours must address the level (elementary or secondary) that is being added and be approved by the Program Director/Certification Officer. Practicum hours for dual certification are divided into 125 hours at the elementary level and 125 hours at the secondary level. When a candidate’s teaching experience is at the middle school level, 125 hours at the elementary level and 125 hours at the secondary level will be required.

Endorsement without the Educational Administration Master’s Degree

Course requirements for an endorsement without a Master’s degree are the same as for a Master’s degree. The endorsement program is for candidates who have already earned a Master of Education from Concordia University, Nebraska with another emphasis and now need the principal endorsement.

Upon completion of the program, candidates applying for the Nebraska endorsement must provide evidence they have taken the required Praxis II content test and receive the required passing score.

Objectives

Graduate candidates who complete an emphasis in elementary or secondary administration will be able to demonstrate:

1. 1.A more complete understanding of the school curriculum.
2. Advanced understanding of the principles and techniques of school organization, management, and leadership.
3. Advanced understanding of the duties and responsibilities of supervising instruction.
4. Functional familiarity with various processes of educational administration, including political and fiscal management.
5. Understanding, appreciation, and performance of the ethics of administering educational systems.
6. Competence and understanding in utilizing school law; and
7. Competence in performance as a school administrator, through effective communication, proficient use of group process, appropriate evaluation, and staff development

Prerequisites

Completion of an undergraduate degree that meets Concordia's graduate admission requirements is the education prerequisite for this program. Candidates seeking the Nebraska Reading Specialist endorsement must hold a current Nebraska teaching certificate and must have the equivalent of two (2) full school years teaching experience. Candidates seeking the Nebraska ESL endorsement must hold a valid Nebraska teaching certificate. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska must contact that state to determine if the program will provide an endorsement in that state.

Program Overview

Concordia University, Nebraska has an established record of quality teacher preparation. The Master of Education with Literacy Emphasis degree offers the same quality of education for teachers who want to continue their careers as Reading Specialists and/or ESL/ELL Specialists. All courses offered address the needs of these education specialists in both public and parochial settings. All degrees and endorsements are accredited by the Nebraska Department of Education and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Consisting of highly integrated literacy courses, the 33 graduate credit hour Master's program will result in both a master's, and for those who hold a Nebraska teaching certificate, a reading specialist endorsement. It includes a three credit hours case study built around the specific needs of a student with reading difficulties. The Reading Specialist endorsement only program is 30 graduate credit hours and will result in a reading specialist endorsement. It includes a three-credit hour case study built around the specific needs of a student with reading difficulties and is required for certification.

The ESL endorsement is 15 graduate credit hours and features four courses of current ESL theory with immediate application to teaching, including clinical experiences in an ESL classroom and a 45 clock-hour practicum with one or more students whose primary language is other than English. Upon completion of the program, candidates applying for the Nebraska Reading Specialist endorsement must provide evidence they have taken the required Praxis

- Candidates can add an additional endorsement to an existing Nebraska Teaching Certificate for a grade level not held on a current certificate. To do so there is an additional 3 credit hour class that must be added to their program – EDUC 543 Advanced Student Teaching-Special Education – which is 100 hours of field experience that must be completed at the new grade level.

Prerequisites

Completion of an undergraduate degree that meets Concordia's graduate admission requirements is the educational prerequisite for this program. Candidates seeking administrator certification in Nebraska must hold a current Nebraska teaching certificate and must have the equivalent of two (2) full school years teaching experience in approved/accredited elementary, middle, and/or secondary schools. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska must contact that state to determine if the program will provide an endorsement in the state.

Program Overview

The Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Special Education program is a program offering a master's degree with an emphasis and/or endorsement in special education. This program builds strong connections between theory and practice through quality online instruction paired with practical application. Candidates gain a strong foundation in Special Education content knowledge from experienced experts in the field of education. Concordia Nebraska faculty members actively engage in the practice of educating students with disabilities, implementation of educational policy and research collaboration; this vital knowledge is embedded throughout the program. Guidance from Concordia Nebraska faculty provides candidates with the framework and support they need to be successful in today's rapidly evolving inclusive educational environment. Four designated Special Education courses will include 5 hours of observing children with disabilities.

Candidates seeking a Nebraska endorsement will need to specify their endorsement (i.e., K-6 Subject or 7-12 Subject or K-12 Field). This determines the focus of their studies and must be declared prior to the program start. Candidates pursuing a K-6 Subject, or 7-12 Subject endorsement must complete 42 hours of coursework meeting the Nebraska requirements for a Special Education endorsement. Candidates seeking a K-12 Field endorsement will complete 51 hours of coursework, thus meeting the requirements for this endorsement.

Upon completion of the program, candidates applying for the Nebraska endorsement must provide evidence they have taken the required Praxis II content test and received the required passing score.

Additional Endorsements for Nebraska Teaching Certificates:

Additional endorsements may be added to an existing Nebraska Teaching Certificate. Students seeking an endorsement for a grade level not held on a current certificate must successfully complete eight weeks of student teaching at the new grade level. Students must contact the university to register for student teaching. The university will make special arrangements for student teaching placement on an individual basis. The following class must be added to the student's program to fulfill this requirement: EDUC 543 Adv. Student Teaching –Special Education [3 hours] A field experience consisting of one hundred (100) or more clock hours of contact with students in the classroom setting, fifty (50) percent of which shall consist of performing instructional duties. If you have questions about this, please contact our certification officer.

Endorsement without the Special Education Master's Degree

Course requirements for an endorsement without a Master's degree are the same as for a Master's degree. Upon completion of the coursework, candidates applying for the Nebraska endorsement must provide evidence they have taken the required Praxis II content test and receive the required passing score.

Objectives

The Master of Education in Special Education aligns with the established professional standards by the Council for Exceptional Children for teachers in the field of special education. Candidates who complete the M.Ed. in Special Education program, or endorsement, will:

Endorsement– 30 hours

- English Second Language (ESL) Endorsement only – 15 hours

Prerequisites

Completion of an undergraduate degree that meets Concordia's graduate admission requirements is the educational prerequisite for this program. Candidates seeking the Nebraska ESL endorsement must hold a valid Nebraska teaching certificate. Candidates from a state other than Nebraska must contact that state to determine if the program will provide an endorsement in that state.

Program Overview

A Master of Education degree in TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) provides the in-depth level of ESL teacher training necessary for a candidate to become an ESL specialist, an instructor who understands both how to teach English and how language learning happens for ESL students. Particular audiences who would benefit from this training include the following:

- PK-12 teachers who desire to become dedicated ESL instructors, ESL teaching coaches, or ESL resource teachers for their schools, districts, or education units.
- Instructors who desire to teach ESL in the US to adults (in community colleges, universities, or refugee/immigrant programs) or to children outside PK-12 school settings (e.g., in refugee programs, immigrant centers, afterschool programs, etc.).
- Individuals who wish to serve as coordinators of adult ESL programs in U.S. community colleges, refugee programs, etc.
- Instructors who wish to teach ESL overseas in schools and universities; and
- International instructors of EFL (English as a Foreign Language).

A candidate who wishes to obtain Nebraska ESL endorsement may do so upon completing 15 hours of coursework in this program consisting of four courses in current ESL theory and practice, linguistics, and language and culture, plus a capstone course with 45 clock hour practicum. Concordia University, Nebraska has an established record of quality teacher preparation. The Master of Education in TESOL degree offers the same quality of education for teachers who want to continue their careers as ESL Specialists. All courses offered address the needs of education specialists in both public and parochial settings. All degrees and endorsements are accredited by the Nebraska Department of Education and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Classes are offered online. Candidates may finish the program in two years.

Master of Science

Athletic Administration

Options

Master of Science in Athletics Administration, High School

Athletics Administration – 30 hours

Master of Science in Athletics Administration, College Athletics Administration – 30 hours

Master of Science in Athletics Administration, High School and College Athletics Administration (Dual) – 42 hours

Prerequisites: Not Applicable

Program Overview

The Master of Science in Athletics Administration degree at Concordia University, Nebraska is a 30 credit hour program that develops students into ethical and respected leaders in the high school or college athletics industries and is delivered in an engaging environment through current leaders in those industries. Students will be prepared to navigate through current and relevant issues faced in the athletics industries. Students have the option of completing both the high school and collegiate concentrations by taking classes consecutively or concurrently. The dual certification is a 42 credit hour program.

Curriculum from the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (NIAAA) is embedded within the M.S. in Athletics Administration program. Students will obtain a graduate degree that will provide them with the knowledge and experience to step into an athletic administration role while also completing the coursework required to become a Certified Athletic Administrator (CAA) through the NIAAA.*

The continued increase in participation in Interscholastic and College Athletics by young men and women creates a demand for leaders who are able to guide Athletic Departments at both the Interscholastic and College levels that will: a) promote mental, physical and spiritual growth among the athletes; b) offer programs that are both competitive and provide a positive experience for the athletes; and, c) contribute to the growth of the academic institution. Concordia Nebraska's M.S. in Athletics Administration program will provide job-seeking students with an advantage to obtain these positions, particularly if students complete the additional steps required to receive CAA certification through the NIAAA.*

*While students will complete the coursework required to become a Certified Athletic Administrator (CAA) through the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (NIAAA), there are additional steps that the student will need to pursue with the NIAAA directly to become a member and assure full CAA certification.

Objectives

A graduate with a Master of Science in Athletics Administration degree from Concordia University, Nebraska will be able to:

1. Incorporate standards of ethics; local, state, and federal laws; and applicable athletic governing body regulations into the decision-making process for an Athletic Department.

2. Formulate a process for collaboration among coaches, parents, institution administrators, the community, and the athletes themselves, to create an environment that fosters the physical, mental, and spiritual growth of each athlete in every program sponsored by the Athletic Department.
3. Develop a marketing plan for an Athletic Department that focuses on creating sources of revenue outside the academic institution and develop relationships to assure individuals and organizations that comprise those revenue sources transform into strategic partners for growth.
4. Design a strategic plan for an Athletic Department that addresses financial stewardship and growth, operation efficiency, and successful performance of each athletic program in regards to both competition and academics.

Core Courses (18 credit hours)

MSAA 500	Leadership & Management in Athletics (3)
MSAA 510	Athletics Sociology (3)

COUNSELING

COU 501 FOUNDATIONS OF SCHOOL COUNSELING [3]

Study of the conceptual foundation and elements of the American School Counseling (ASCA) National Model including history, philosophy, principles, domains (academic, career, and personal/social), rationale, competencies, and trends. This course underlines the vital role that school counselors play in advocating for the needs of all students, while simultaneously collaborating with teachers, families, advisory councils, school boards, and other community stakeholders. Focus will be on beliefs, benefits, vision, and outcomes for a successful, comprehensive, professional, school counseling program.

COU 502 ETHICAL AND LEGAL ISSUES IN SCHOOL COUNSELING [3]

Covers the interrelationship of ethical standards and legal regulation in professional school counseling. Issues confronted include ASCA ethical standards, confidentiality, records, technology, and professional association and development.

COU 503 COUNSELING DIVERSE POPULATIONS [3]

An examination of attitudes, understanding, and application of counseling skills relevant to working with students and families in a diverse and ever-changing world. This course will help prepare counselors with the collaborative skills needed to serve all students in schools and community. Issues confronted include, but are not limited to, ethnic and racial background, age, English language proficiency, special needs, religion, gender, and economic status.

COU 510 COUNSELING THEORIES [3]

Examination of the prominent counseling theories (both historical and current) and client and counselor characteristics as they apply to the counseling process. Students will develop a personal model of counseling that will be tied to his/her COU 600 Capstone Portfolio.

COU 512 CHILD & ADOLESCENT DEVELOPMENT AND LEARNING [3]

An exploration of growth and development from conception through adolescence. Focusing on biological, cognitive, effective, social, and spiritual development. Furthermore, students will become more familiar with the counseling theories and techniques most often used in the schools including, rational emotive behavior therapy, reality, cognitive behavioral, Adlerian, solution-focused brief counseling, person-centered, and family systems.

COU 515 GROUP THEORY AND COUNSELING (Field experience required) [3]

This course examines the purpose, development, dynamics, theories, methods, skills, and ethics of group counseling in the schools. This course includes a field experience component at either the elementary, middle, or high school level. Students will observe, participate in, and review a 6-week small group experience in the schools under the leadership of a professional school counselor. Sites must be secured prior to enrollment in course and approved by course instructor.

Prerequisites: COU 510*

COU 520 SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT AND MANAGEMENT [3]

The major focus of this applied course is on the design, development, organization, administration, implementation, and evaluation of a comprehensive school counseling program that meets ASCA national standards and any applicable state standards. Students will work specifically on vital documents to be included in his/her 600 Capstone Portfolio.

Prerequisite: COU 501*

COU 522 FUNDAMENTALS OF ASSESSMENT [3]

This course provides an overview of individual and group approaches to assessment techniques and serves to accomplish understanding of assessment in 2 areas: 1) commonly used educational assessments. This includes current and expected uses of testing and assessment tools in educational settings. This course will identify how the school counselor will use and critique assessment tools in the school, emphasizing the benefits and limitations of such tools. 2) The assessment and evaluation of a comprehensive school counseling program.

Prerequisite: EDUC 594, COU 501, 520*

COU 530 CONSULTATION STRATEGIES IN THE SCHOOL [3]

Overview of consultation theory and practice as it relates to the promotion and support of student success. Mental health expert, collaborative, behavioral, and organizational models will be discussed and applied to problems in school settings. Course will develop skills related to students, teachers, administration, parents, caretakers, and school stakeholders.

COU 540 PRACTICUM [3]

The student must log at least 100 clock-hours of supervised counseling experiences in school settings at PK-12 grade levels. The hours should include components of the ASCA National Model (i.e., Foundation, Management, Delivery, and/or Accountability) The student will conduct individual counseling observation, co-counseling hours, and/or 1:1 counseling at the discretion of the site supervisor. Ideally, the student will spend 60/100 hours at the grade level in which he/she intends to pursue placement. Approval of Practicum site and collaborating school counselor must be secured prior to enrolling.

Prerequisites: COU 501, 510, 520, 515 and minimum 3.0 GPA*

COU 550 ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY [3]

An introduction to diagnostic criteria, according to the DSM, for mental and emotional disorders. Students will become familiar with assessment and treatment of abnormal behaviors to recognize and refer when additional mental health services are required.

COU 560 TRAUMA AND CRISIS INTERVENTION [3]

An overview of the impact of crises, disasters, and other trauma-causing events on individuals, families, schools, and communities. Students will be introduced to strategies and interventions for working with this population and their role as leaders in crisis response. Topics include a range of experiences: life transitions, divorce, physical health changes, and foster placement, as well as death and bereavement experiences. Students will explore the dynamics of attachment and the loss- grief cycle.

COU 570 CAREER AND EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT IN THE SCHOOLS [3]

This course exposes students to the life-long process of career development theory and methods of career counseling in a PK-12 school. Students will familiarize themselves with career assessment tools, career development program planning, and sources of occupational information. This course will also prepare the school counselor to help high school students navigate the college admissions process. Current trends will be discussed.

COU 600 SCHOOL COUNSELOR CAPSTONE [2]

Upon completion of the Capstone course, the student will have completed a portfolio that reflects his/her development, understanding, and vision throughout the entire program. The portfolio will use assignment artifacts and provided guidelines to highlight the student's knowledge, skills and abilities, and attitudes as they align with the ASCA counselor competencies. Furthermore, this portfolio can be useful for the graduate as he/she applies and interviews for a professional school counselor position.

Prerequisite: Student may not be registered for Capstone until all other coursework has been completed. The student may register for Capstone simultaneously with Internships. COU 600 is one of the final three courses taken in the program.*

COU 601 A/B INTERNSHIP I (PK-6) 225 hours [3]

Internship I will include school counseling experiences at the PK-6 level, under the supervision of a certified school counselor. This is the candidate's culminating opportunity to practice and demonstrate mastery of the ASCA competencies. Students are expected to function per the expectations of other full-time employees and counseling staff at the internship site. Experience must include a minimum of 225 clock-hours. Ninety (90) of these 225 clock-hours must be in direct service, including but not limited to, individual and group counseling, individual student planning, or developmental classroom guidance. Students must also secure and prove liability insurance through their student membership with ASCA. Students who plan to complete all 225 clock hours within the traditional 8-week format, will be registered for COU 601A. Students who anticipate completion of all 225 clock hours taking longer than the 8 weeks, will be registered for COU 601B. COU 601A & COU 601B are the same course. The only differentiation is the time allotted for completion of hours. Note- If a student requires additional internship hours based on Department of Education regulations for a state outside of Nebraska, Concordia University, Nebraska will be able to accommodate the student.

Prerequisite: All coursework must be completed. Track 2 students must also complete and pass a second criminal background check prior to beginning Internship. Student may simultaneously enroll in COU 600. Must be taken in fall or spring and one of the final three courses taken in the program.*

COU 602 A/B INTERNSHIP II (7-12) 225 hours [3]

Internship II will include school counseling experiences at the 7-12 level, under the supervision of a certified school counselor. This is the candidate's culminating opportunity to practice and demonstrate mastery of the ASCA competencies. Students are expected to function per the expectations of other full-time employees and counseling staff at the internship site. Experiences must include a minimum of 225 clock-hours. Ninety (90) of these 225 clock-hours must be in direct service, including but not limited to, individual and group counseling, individual student planning, or developmental classroom guidance. Student must also secure and prove liability insurance through their student membership with ASCA. Students who plan to complete all 225 clock hours within the traditional 8-week format, will be registered for COU 602A. Students who anticipate completion of all 225 clock hours taking longer than the 8 weeks, will be registered for COU 602B. COU 602A and COU 602B are the same course. The only differentiation is the time allotted for completion of hours. Note- If a student requires additional internship hours based on Department of Education regulations for a state outside of Nebraska, Concordia University, Nebraska will be able to accommodate the student.

Prerequisite: All coursework must be completed. Track 2 students must also complete and pass a second criminal background check prior to beginning Internship. Student may simultaneously enroll in COU 600. Must be taken in fall or spring and one of the final three courses taken in the program.*

This course provides training to content area teachers in the SIOP® (Sheltered Instruction Observation Protocol) method of working with English Language Learners in their classrooms. The SIOP® Model is specifically designed to provide teachers of linguistically and culturally diverse students with the means to teach their content areas effectively as they develop English Language Learners' language proficiency.

EDUC 530 School, Community, and Parent Involvement [2 or 3]

This course concentrates on the teacher's role in building successful relationships between families, educators, schools, and communities. Strategies for increasing respectful family-school relationships that enhance children's school success will be emphasized.

EDUC 531 Differentiation of Instruction to Improve Student Achievement [3]

This course reviews theory-based differentiated models of instruction that will provide practitioners with a strong background in a variety of instructional modalities. In this course candidates will discover what is old and what is new. They will learn how to determine important differences in their students' points of entry to their classroom and uncover implications for class management; for working with students and parents; and for creating fair and appropriate assessments. This course balances information with practical applications and includes material for teachers across grade levels, personal styles, and philosophies of teaching.

EDUC 532 Enhancing Learning Through Linguistic and Cultural Diversity [3]

This course explores teachers' views on the value of linguistic and cultural diversity and the powerful learning opportunities it affords today's classrooms and schools. Teachers examine their attitudes, beliefs, and biases regarding linguistically and culturally diverse students, families, and communities and learn approaches for working together to ensure high levels of learning for all students. Strategies for ensuring equitable access to high-quality learning experiences are presented. Effective practices such as cultural responsiveness, anti-bias curriculum, differentiated instruction, and developing academic vocabulary are explored.

EDUC 533 Classroom Management: Theory and Practice [3]

In this course, teachers will study and explore educational literature on classroom management techniques, group dynamics, teacher/student interrelations, leadership styles, peer group dynamics, appropriate punishment, crisis control, coping with special students, teacher/student rights, teacher authority, and communication with parents and administration. The primary objective of this course is to provide teachers with an understanding of classroom management strategies and theories, as applied to real life situations, pertaining to both teachers and students.

EDUC 534 Empowering Teachers as Leaders [3]

This course introduces the concept of teacher leadership and its value in the field of education today. This course will explore what it means to be a teacher leader in various environments, to be advocates for students, to participate meaningfully in school reform and/or renewal processes, and to articulate knowledge of content, pedagogy, and other teaching/learning.

EDUC 535 Portfolio 1 [0]

The portfolios are outcome and evidence based with the candidate showing evidence of competency in the standards within his or her field of study. Depending upon the program, candidates complete either two or three portfolios, which are submitted electronically at set points during the candidate's program. The portfolio shows professional growth over time and can serve as a basis for documenting professional development outside of the university setting.

EDUC 536 Portfolio 2 [0]

See EDUC 535

EDUC 537 Portfolio Review [0]

The Educational Administration Practicum Portfolio is reviewed at the end of the program to ensure that the evidence for 250 practicum hours and other end-of-program requirements have been submitted and evaluated for program completion. Student must be enrolled in this course simultaneously with the final course in the program to ensure field experience hours are met for graduation.

EDUC 539 Instructional Methods for Students with Diverse Needs in Inclusive Settings [3]

This course emphasizes the use of instructional strategies to meet the needs of all learners including the culturally diverse, gifted, at-risk, second language learner, and those with special needs at all education levels. Its non-categorical approach helps teachers ensure all students' success regardless of their specific categories of exceptionalities. The course integrates today's expectations for students with a strong commitment to inclusive practices, tempered to the realities of day-to-day teaching. The text provides teachers with a firm grounding in special education practices, an understanding of the professionals who support these students, and the procedures followed to ensure their rights are upheld, and a wealth of research-based strategies and interventions that can foster their success. This course will provide teachers information about the individual needs of all learners, and practice in identifying those needs. It will also provide opportunities to begin creating differentiated instructional strategies to meet the needs of all learners. This course includes 5 hours of observation of children with disabilities.

EDUC 540 Curriculum and Instruction Capstone [3]

The capstone course is an opportunity for students to demonstrate they have achieved the learning goals established in their professional development plan. This project should take into consideration all of the courses leading to this degree and focus on a candidate's personal interest area(s). This course is a prerequisite for EDUC 590.

EDUC 541 Adv. Student Teaching I – Secondary [3]

A field experience consisting of one hundred (100) or more clock hours of contact with students in the classroom setting, fifty (50) percent of which shall consist of performing instructional duties. Fulfills requirements for renewal of Nebraska Initial, Standard, or Professional certificate.

EDUC 542 Adv. Student Teaching II – Secondary [3]EDUC 543 Adv. Student Teaching –Special Education [3]

A field experience consisting of one hundred (100) or more clock hours of contact with students in the classroom setting, fifty (50) percent of which shall consist of performing instructional duties. Fulfills requirements for renewal of Nebraska Initial, Standard, or Professional certificate.

EDUC 544 Adv. Student Teaching – Early Childhood [3]

A field experience consisting of one hundred (100) or more clock hours of contact with students in the classroom setting, fifty (50) percent of which shall consist of performing instructional duties. Fulfills requirements for renewal of Nebraska Initial, Standard, or Professional certificate.

MBA 690 Strategic Management [3]

This course is a culminating MBA degree course. Managers in today's business environment must adapt and evolve to meet the technological and global pace of business. This course will provide the manager with the tools to successfully evaluate the internal and external environment and develop a strategic plan that is aligned with the goals of the organization and the needs of the market. Focus will be placed on the formation, implementation, and evaluation of strategic plans through a balance of readings, class discussion, case analysis and simulations. Students' achievement of the MBA Program Goals will be measured.

MATHEMATICSMATH 500 Statistics [3]

This course is designed as a review of basic statistical concepts for students entering graduate programs. The concepts covered include data collection and analysis, statistical graphs, probability, distributions, sampling, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, correlation, and regression. The emphasis will be on interpretation, concepts, and use of statistical software.

PUBLIC HEALTHMPH 500 Fundamentals of Public Health [3]

This course provides an introduction and overview of the scope and history of public health and the core concepts that represent the foundation of the field.

MPH 505 Biostatistics [3]

Biostatistics introduces the concepts of fundamental statistical data analysis. Topics include descriptive statistics, probability, standard probability distributions, sampling distributions, point and confidence interval estimation, hypothesis testing, power, and sample size estimation, one- and two-sample parametric and non-parametric methods for analyzing continuous or discrete data, linear regression, ANOVA, and experimental design in addressing, analyzing, and solving problems in public health, health care, clinical, and population-based research. The emphasis will be on interpretation, concepts, and use of statistical software.

Prerequisites: An undergraduate introduction to statistics course.*

MPH 510 Applied Epidemiology [3]

Students will examine core principles of epidemiology and statistical evaluation of the impact of microbial diseases on the health of community- and clinic-based populations. The epidemiology and prevention of chronic diseases will also be emphasized.

MPH 515 Principles of Health Behavior [3]

This course provides a broad overview of the field of behavioral health, examining a variety of behavioral models and theories in order to better understand behavior change, health risk behavior and psychological/behavioral factors that affect physical conditions in individuals and populations. Emphasis is placed on applying theory to a variety of health concerns.

MPH 520 Concepts of Environmental Health [3]

This course examines several concepts including biological, chemical, physical, and psychosocial aspects in environmental health and applies them to the prevention of environmentally induced diseases.

Additionally, the course explores issues related to biological monitoring of environmental health hazards, health surveillance, environmental monitoring, and current environmental standards governing air, water, food, and soil quality.

MPH 525 Health Policy and Management [3]

This course presents an overview of health policymaking and describes healthcare policy in the US with emphasis on Medicare, Medicaid, and the Affordable Care Act. Emphasis will also be placed on management and communication strategies important to public health professionals. We will examine the roles of state and federal agencies in the healthcare as well as the ethical perspectives on health policy and individual and population rights. An overview of community health programs, health disparities and a brief comparative analysis of health care in the United States as compared to other countries will be discussed.

MPH 530 Methods of Research in Public Health [3]

This course focuses on practical issues in health research studies. Topics include an overview of public health research, ethics in research, the theory/research relationships, formulating research questions, specifying study design and objectives, defining variables, the validity and reliability of measures, scale construction, formatting questionnaires, developing analysis plans, choosing data collection methods, sampling techniques and sample size, developing and completing research studies, preparing data for analysis, and reporting findings.

MPH 543 Leadership and Organizational Management in Health Care [3]

This course is designed to increase your effectiveness and skill in analyzing and understanding health care organizations and their attendant processes. Behavioral science concepts and theories are studied. Individual, group, and structural behavior and concepts are presented. A special emphasis on leadership is provided.

MPH 546 Public Health Finance [3]

This course explores the acquisition, utilization, and management of resources for the delivery of public health functions and how those factors translate to population health.

MPH 548 Human Resource Management in Health Care [3]

This course explores the many aspects of human resources relative to a health care organization. Students will discover the role of human resources in supporting the strategic goals of the organization and identify the core functions of human resources, including payroll, benefits, employee relations, retirement and more. Students will have the opportunity to present on the life cycle of the employee and receive peer feedback on that project.

MPH 560 Public Health Ethics [3]

Coursework examines the fundamental ethical issues in public health research and practice, with a special emphasis on professional ethics, morality, and faith.

MPH 583 Global Health [3]

This course is a highly recommended face-to-face elective that introduces students to crucial global health issues and culminates in a weeklong, face to face, trip to a developing country; recent trips have been to Guatemala and Belize. Students will explore health determinants and key areas of disease burden which affect developing nations, understanding the role that health technology plays in solving these problems.

MPH 584 Community Health [3]

This course explores the nature, extent and causes of basic community health problems. Develop your understanding of the purpose, function, organization, and administration of community health services at local, state, and national levels.

MPH 585 Programming and Evaluation in Public Health [3]

This course focuses on the assessment of public needs and emphasizes the design, implementation and evaluation of programs using a multi-dimensional approach. The planning process is framed in current theory, such as logic models and analytics for evaluating effective community-based and focused public health programs.

MPH 588 Marketing Public Health [3]

This course offers an overview of the strategic and tactical practice of social marketing including basic principles, the planning process, and the role of research in social marketing, message development and delivery, and evaluation of social marketing programs.

MPH 598 Applied Research in Public Health [3]

This course enables you to apply research methodologies learned in previous classes. You will complete a research project incorporating research that can be applied to public health. You must incorporate a proposition that has been successfully evaluated and appropriately cited with statistics. Prerequisites: Completion of core courses and must be taken directly after MPH 530.*

MPH 599 Public Health Field Practicum [3]

The practicum offers practical experience to build competence in the specialization of general public health. Prerequisites: Completion of all core courses, concentration courses, and field site approval given by the MPH Program Director. Must be the final course taken in the program or be taken concurrently with MPH 598.*

ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

MSAA 500 Leadership and Management in Athletics [3]

This course is designed to provide the student with insight into various leadership styles and techniques that can be utilized within an Athletic Department to assure the success of the department in producing competitive programs that foster growth of its student-athletes in all areas. Particular focus will be placed on the development of a mission statement, vision statement and organizational goals for the department that align with the academic institution and assisting coaches in the same process and assuring its implementation. The course design and curriculum is solely based on the NIAAA (National Interscholastic Athletic Administrator Association) LTC (Leadership Training Courses) 501, 502, 503: LTC 501: Guiding Foundations & Philosophies, LTC 502: Strategies for Organizational Management, and LTC 503: Enhancing Organization Management.

MSAA 510 Athletics Sociology [3]

This course will explore the current perspectives of athletes, coaches, parents, and institutions on the role of Interscholastic and College Athletics in the United States. Emphasis will be placed on how to unify the aforementioned internal parties who directly or indirectly contribute to the success of an athletic program and how to collaborate on external societal forces that can impact that success. The course design and curriculum is solely based on the NIAAA (National Interscholastic Athletic Administrator Association) LTC (Leadership Training Courses) 710A & 710B: LTC 710A - Athletic Administration: Current Issues in Education-Based Sports & LTC 710B - Athletic Administration: Current Issues in American Sports.

MSAA 520 Ethical and Legal Aspects of Athletics Administration [3]

This course equips students to analyze their own ethical philosophies and those of others in diverse Interscholastic and College Athletics environments and to incorporate those philosophies in solving ethical issues in their Athletic Departments. Included in the course is a study of different ethical models being applied in the modern athletics environment and the challenges faced by Christians in this morally diverse environment. This course also introduces students to important legal challenges they will face in leadership roles in Athletic Departments and how they should analyze relevant variables in those areas to make wise decisions. Areas such as Hazing, Negligence, Title IX, Sexual Harassment, Americans with Disabilities Act, and other employment laws will be discussed. The course design and curriculum is solely based on the NIAAA (National Interscholastic Athletic Administrator Association) LTC (Leadership Training Courses) 504, 506, 508, & 510: LTC 504 - Liability for Sports Injuries & Risk Management, LTC 506 - Title IX & Sexual Harassment, LTC 508 - Hazing, Constitutional Law, Disabilities Law, & Employment & Labor Law; and LTC 510 - Social Media, Transgender Participation, Event Management & Security, Pregnant & Parenting Student-Athletes, & Intellectual Property.

MSAA 530 Management of Facilities and Operations in Athletics [3]

Students will be exposed to the steps taken to ensure a high-quality experience is provided for all athletes in practices and competitions. Particular focus areas will be the design, construction and maintenance of athletic fields and courts; athletic equipment maintenance; and efficient operations of competition events.

MSAA 540 Marketing in Athletics [3]

This course will focus on the development of decision-making skills for both effective and efficient marketing in Interscholastic and College Athletics. Emphasis will be placed on the importance of marketing in strategic planning and the critical process components in the development of effective marketing strategies to procure Ticket Sales, Concession Sales, Corporate Sponsorships and Donations. Topics will include market segmentation, use of marketing research in decision-making, use of media and promotion, budgeting, and marketing program evaluation.

MSAA 550 High School Student-Athlete Development [3]

This course will provide students with insight into the importance of using an athletic program as a vehicle to foster the physical, mental, and spiritual development of athletes. Particular focus will be placed on assuring this development is integrated into the mission, vision, and goals of each program within the Athletic Department. Additional focus will be a case study approach used to foster development of these three areas within high school athletes and to overcome the external factors that can impede this development, including bullying and alcohol and drug use.

MSAA 552 High School Athletics Fundraising [3]

This course will focus on the increasing need for both public and private high school athletic departments to engage in fundraising to subsidize the funding received from the academic institution in order to sustain operations and have the ability to grow. Particular focus will be placed on alternative revenue sources that can be procured including donations, merchandise sales, ticket and concessions sales, corporate sponsorships, and profit-sharing sales campaigns with outside organizations. Additional focus will be placed on the operational steps for a successful fundraising campaign and the integration of the personal sales process into that campaign.

MSAA 554 High School Athletics Finance [3]

This course will provide students with the foundation to procure and manage a budget for an Athletic Department that allows the department and each of its programs to continue to grow and meet their respective vision and goals. Particular emphasis will be placed on income statement and balance sheet production and their use for decision-making by the department, forecasting revenue and expenses based on organizational need and student participation, and incorporating software to assure the accounting process is accurate and efficient.

MSAA 556 High School Athletics State and Federal Regulation Compliance [3]

This course will provide students with a foundation of the organizational structure of the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS), National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (NIAAA), and applicable State Athletic Associations. Particular emphasis will be placed on the procedure of the NFHS and State Athletic Associations in enacting regulations, investigating violations of those rules by member institutions, and appealing decisions by applicable governing bodies. Students will learn how to navigate through the Rules Manuals for applicable governing bodies by applying the rules to issues that arise within a high school Athletic Department in a wide variety of areas including behavior in competition, game scheduling, practice commencement, and eligibility of transfer- students.

MSAA 560 College Student-Athlete Development [3]

This course will provide students with insight into the importance of using an athletic program as a vehicle to foster the physical, mental, and spiritual development of college athletes. Particular focus will be placed on assuring this development is integrated into the mission, vision, and goals of each program within the Athletic Department. Additional focus will be a case study approach used to foster development of these three areas within college athletes and to overcome the external factors that can impede this development, including alcohol and drug use, depression and anxiety, and lack of support from family and friends.

MSAA 562 College Athletics Fundraising [3]

This course will focus on the increasing need for college Athletic Departments to engage in fundraising to subsidize the funding received from the academic institution in order to sustain operations and have the ability to grow. Particular focus will be placed on alternative revenue sources that can be procured including donations, merchandise sales, concession and ticket sales, and corporate sponsorships. Additional focus will be placed on the operational steps for a successful fundraising campaign and the integration of the personal sales process into that campaign.

MSAA 564 College Athletics Finance [3]

This course will provide students with the foundation to manage a budget for a college Athletic Department that allows the department and each of its programs to continue to grow and meet their respective vision and goals.

Particular emphasis will be placed on income statement and balance sheet production and their use for decision-making by the department, forecasting revenue and expenses based on organizational need and student participation, and navigating through the Financial Aid process necessary to achieve a balance with Academic and Athletic-based scholarship limits

MSAA 566 NCAA and NAIA Regulation Compliance [3]

This course will provide students with a foundation of the organizational structure and operations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). Particular emphasis will be placed on the procedure for enacting regulations amongst the three governing bodies and investigating violations of those rules by member institutions. Students will learn how to navigate through the Rules Manuals for each governing body by applying the rules to issues that arise within a college Athletic Department in a wide variety of areas including recruiting, financial benefits to student-athletes and academic eligibility.

MSAA 598 InsideOut Coaching [3]

Inspired by Joe Ehrmann's groundbreaking work, delves into the core principles of authentic leadership that transcend traditional models. This course explores the profound impact of leadership from the inside out, focusing on the development of character, values, and purpose as the foundation for transformative leadership. Participants will engage in deep introspection, challenging conversations, and practical exercises designed to cultivate self-awareness, empathy, and integrity. The course examines the role of leaders in fostering meaningful connections, promoting equity and justice, and inspiring positive change in their communities. Through a blend of theory, case studies, and interactive sessions, participants will gain the tools and strategies needed to lead with authenticity, compassion, and vision. InsideOut Leadership empowers individuals to become catalysts for personal and societal transformation, leaving a lasting legacy of impact and influence. This course satisfies the requirement for MSAA 599 in the Athletics Administration program.

MFT 527 Legal, Ethical, & Moral Issues in Family Therapy/Education [3]

This course introduces and develops student competency in the legal, ethical, and moral issues related to the practice of marriage and family therapy & family life education in Nebraska. Consideration is given to the student practitioner's values, behaviors, and culture in relationship to becoming a licensed marriage and family therapist or family life practitioner. Professional, legal, and ethical codes, as well as moral decisions, are studied and applied in clinical scenarios. Areas of focus include, but are not limited to, the requirements of mandated reporting, suicide assessment and interventions, and the limits of confidentiality and Laws directly impacting families. Students review statutory, regulatory, and decisional laws related to the MFT/Family Education scope of practice, including privilege, family law, and the treatment of minors.

MFT 530 Crisis and Trauma in Community Mental Health [3]

This course prepares students in the understanding and treatment of child abuse, domestic violence, and trauma. Content includes detection, assessment, and intervention strategies. Awareness of resiliency factors and their application to client recovery is addressed. Target populations include survivors, perpetrators, and those experiencing co-morbid disorders. Attention is paid to understanding the issues of diversity and its impact on client welfare, including elder abuse, same-gender abuse, and ethnic differences. This course also presents the challenges of accessing resources in community mental health. Guest speakers/consumers are invited. This course also includes training (6+ hours) in suicide assessment and intervention.

MFT 542 Christian Spiritual Formation & Psychotherapy [3]

This course will provide a historical overview of Christian Spirituality & Theology. As background for the discussion of Christian Spiritual Formation, a holistic philosophical/theological model of persons will be presented along with an overview of spiritual disciplines as methods utilized to actively engage the Christian formation process. Examples of psychotherapy models that integrate Christian theology and spirituality with existing psychology theoretical and clinical models will be presented and discussed. Opportunities for synthesis, application, and creative development of ideas are all part of the course content and process.

MFT 551 Theories of Psychotherapy [3]

This course develops an understanding of the major theoretical orientations used by current practitioners, focusing on systemic approaches. Established schools of thought, the recovery model, evidence-based and promising practices and their immediate descendants are presented through lectures, videotapes, reflection, application via clinical case presentations, and experiential learning. The course also highlights cultural and spiritual diversity as it applies to the therapeutic process and awareness of the self, interpersonal issues, and spiritual values as they impact the use of theoretical frameworks.

MFT 554 Human Sexuality and Sex Therapy [3]

This course reviews human sexuality as a basis for healthy relationships. Students examine and evaluate biological, psychological, social, and moral perspectives of the theories of sexual development and functioning, including issues of heterosexuality, homosexuality, gender identity, and transgender. In addition, students survey literature on sexual dysfunction, develop diagnostic skills for assessing the nature and extent of sexual dysfunction, and learn treatment strategies utilized in the various systems of marriage and sex therapy. All subjects are reviewed within a Lutheran, Biblical and theological lens.

MFT 562 Couples/Marriage Intervention and Therapy [3]

This course provides instruction on current theories and methods of couples/marriage therapy. Students gain basic knowledge in the application, assessment, and interventions of several theoretical models and are introduced to psychological instruments used in couples therapy, pre and post marriage counseling and divorce recovery. Emphasis is placed on working with couples directly in attending to diversity issues such as domestic violence, ethnicity, spirituality, cultural considerations, and other dynamics surrounding marriage. Legal and ethical issues pertaining to couples therapy is integrated into treatment considerations.

MFT 610 Adv. Life Span Developmental Psychology [3]

This course aims to help students learn to utilize a lifespan perspective in their work as marriage and family therapists. The course focuses on the important developmental issues and milestones for each stage of the lifespan, paying particular attention to the aspects of context, culture, and environmental issues. Students are encouraged to consider how development occurs within a specific social context and learn how social stress, poverty, low educational attainment, abuse and neglect, and inadequate housing impact development. Biological, social, and psychological aspects of aging and long-term care are included in this course. Models of psychological development are presented, and the processes of change and adaptation are examined, including clinical issues such as grief and loss. The clinical application of the material is highlighted through case examples, group discussion, and hands-on application during class activities. Prerequisite: Human Development or equivalent

MFT 616 Psychopathology [3]

This course reviews the role and categories of psychopathology utilized in the assessment and treatment of individual, marriage, and family dysfunction. Students develop diagnostic skills through a master of the concepts in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM 5) and review available community resources for those with severe mental disorders.

MFT 618 Family Dysfunctions, Interventions 7 Therapy [3]

This course is an overview of current theories and methods of family therapy/interventions. There is an emphasis on how family /intervention integrates diversity issues (e.g., ethnicity, socioeconomic status, spirituality, blended families). The major theories, their founding clinicians, and some of their contemporaries are reviewed. Clinical application of the material is emphasized in coursework.

MFT 622 Research Methodology [3]

This course surveys the major social science research methods, preparing students to read, understand, and evaluate psychological research. This course provides students with the basic knowledge and experience of conducting psychological experiments and how and when to use statistical procedures. Students build skills in how to apply clinical outcome research to clinical treatment planning and interventions. Sensitivity to issues of diversity in psychological research is stressed.

MFT 629 Psychological Assessment [3]

This course provides students with a broad understanding of the clinical use of psychological tests, including objective personality tests, intelligence tests, and projective testing techniques. Emphasis is on developing skills in administering tests, interpreting test findings, and applying test findings through report writing. Current research regarding psychological testing is also reviewed.

MFT 631 Into to Clinical Practice: Basic Skills [3]

This course introduces the student to basic skills in attending behavior, clinical interviewing, clinical intervention, and interpersonal skills. It is designed to stimulate self-awareness as related to the therapeutic/helping relationship, as well as the integration of spirituality and the interpersonal process. Coursework includes reading, observation, role-play, and student audio/videotaped clinical practice. A grade of B or better must be achieved to advance to Introduction to Clinical Practice, Advanced Skills.

MFT 632 Introduction to Clinical Practice [3]

This course is designed to further develop the psychotherapeutic skills of students before they enter into a clinical placement. Students focus on developing proficiency in the core interviewing qualities, deriving goals for a clinical session, and in making contracts with clients for change. Additionally, students are encouraged to begin developing a theoretical and conceptual understanding of cases and trained to work with diverse populations. Students are also encouraged to address issues regarding the integration of their faith with the practice of psychotherapy. These goals are addressed through experiential learning, lectures, readings, discussion, and reflection. Prerequisite: Introduction to Clinical Practice: Basic Skills

MFT 636 Group & Interpersonal Relationship Skills [3]

This course introduces students to the theories and techniques utilized in group counseling. The course includes information about principles of group dynamics, group process, and developmental stages along with interpersonal relationships & emotional intelligence. Students explore the therapeutic factors of group work and group leadership style. Content also includes current research and literature, methods, and evaluation of effectiveness. Ethical, legal, and professional issues as well as special needs such as multiculturalism, life-span development concerns, and the therapist's personal leadership style are addressed.

MFT 642 Psychobiology and Psychopharmacology [3]

This course introduces the biological and neurological bases of human behavior and use of psychotropic medications as an adjunctive therapy to psychotherapy. Current information on the use of medications in the treatment of psychological disorders is provided. Consideration is given to the special needs of certain populations (e.g., the elderly, substance abuse patients) when psychotropic medications are prescribed. Students develop skills in case management when referral to medical doctors or neuropsychologists is part of therapeutic practice.

MFT 646 Introduction to Clinical Placement [1]

This course is designed to support and equip students with entry-level practice management skills for clinical placement within community mental health and private practice settings. Students develop knowledge and gain practice in identifying diagnoses, presenting problems, documentation, and treatment planning. This course also provides program oversight of students' clinical placement experiences. Prerequisite: Introduction to Clinical Skills: Basic and Advanced Skills

MFT 648 Clinical Consultation [1]

This course is designed as an adjunct to the advanced-level students' clinical placement and supervision experiences. The primary purpose of this course is to provide an opportunity for students to discuss their clinical caseload and to provide program oversight of clinical placement experience. Prerequisite: Clinical Placement I, Clinical Placement II, and current placement in a clinical site clinical skills and knowledge of the interpersonal process of psychotherapy. Special attention is given to case management issues, documentation, community-based resources, integration of faith, health promotion, legal and ethical issues, and treatment planning. Treatment planning, utilizing many theoretical approaches including the recovery model, includes instruction and practice in determining the presenting problem, diagnosis, prognosis, client goals, and clinical interventions. Clinical skills and the processes of psychotherapy and supervision are addressed through experiential learning, readings, discussion, reflection, and assignments. This course also provides students with a forum for discussing their clinical caseloads (individuals, children, couples, families, and groups) and their interactions with placement supervisors. Students must be serving at an approved training site to be enrolled in this course.

MFT 660 Clinical Placement [3]

This course provides oversight of students' clinical placement and supervision experiences, focusing on enhancing students'

MFT 661 Clinical Placement II [3]

This course is an adjunct to students' clinical placement, building on Clinical Placement I to provide oversight and consultation for students' clinical placements and the further development of clinical skills. Emphasis is on managing crisis issues, legal/ethical practice, diagnosis, prognosis, multicultural treatment, treatment planning, application of theory to actual clients, integration of faith, and case management services. Clinical work is discussed from a public mental health and private practice perspective. Students must be serving at an approved training site to be enrolled in this course. Prerequisite: Clinical Placement I

PHARMACY

PHAR 519 Medication Use in Public and Population Health [2]

This course is an elective inter-professional course that is open to any CUW graduate or professional student. This course will explore basic principles surrounding prevention, management, and consequences of intentional and unintentional medication exposure within areas of public and population health.

PHAR 531 Clinical Toxicology [2]

This course will focus on the clinical management of the "poisoned" patient. Students will be exposed to the clinical presentation and treatment of patients experiencing toxicity from medications and biologicals. This course will review and reinforce the student's knowledge of the fundamentals of pharmacology and toxicology. The course will be re-emphasizing critical objectives with regard to mechanism of action, absorption, distribution, metabolism, and elimination in addition to chemical structure. Drug addiction pathophysiology and treatment will be presented.

PHAR 546 Quality and Performance Management in Healthcare [3]

This course explores a series of management principles and techniques focusing on the anticipated responsibilities of the future pharmacist. Topics range from accounting and project management to strategy, human resources management, and marketing.

PHAR 547 Pharmacy and the Underserved [2]

This course is meant to provide additional opportunities for pharmacy students to develop skills and knowledge in providing pharmaceutical care to underserved patients. Health care professionals who have a limited understanding of caring for patients facing economic, cultural, geographic, or linguistic barriers may carry negative attitudes and stereotypes toward those vulnerable populations. It is vital to teach students how to interact with diverse patients effectively, as well as appreciate the social, interpersonal, and individual differences that can influence how patients use medications to treat acute and chronic illnesses.

PHAR 549 Big Pharma-Sales, Marketing, and Cultural Impact [2]

The multi-national pharmaceutical industry grew exponentially in the 1990s, producing blockbuster drugs, new (global) markets, and some would argue, new "disorders". This course will explore the roots and tactics of this growth and trace pharmaceutical sales and marketing practices into the current era. Students will gain a deep understanding of how the industry markets products to prescribers, pharmacists, and medical consumers, from the activities of drug reps to direct to consumer advertising. A persistent theme of the course will be the cultural impact of modern pharmaceuticals on society and personhood.

PHAR 571 Geriatric Pharmacy [2]

This course builds on concepts and topics from required coursework related to the care of the elderly patient. Expert guest lecturers, a broad variety of topics, and active learning techniques such as small group discussion, case evaluations, and simulation will be utilized to enhance the learning experience. The course will address general principles of aging and geriatric assessment skills, pharmacotherapy of selected disease states and syndromes common in the senior population, as well as other pertinent issues related to geriatric care. Additionally, students will complete a project in which course content and skills will be applied to patients in the community.

PHAR 573 Advanced Mental Health Pharmacotherapy [2]

This elective course serves to build upon mental health knowledge learned in Pharmacotherapy IV (Phar 550) and to develop an even broader knowledge base of psychiatric and neurologic disease states. Students will learn to apply psychopharmacologic and therapeutic management strategies to treat these disorders through the use of interactive patient cases and clinical scenarios. Other methods of teaching and learning (videos, literature evaluation, patient counseling, expert panels, etc.) may also be used to illustrate key points and present material.

Prerequisite: P3 in good academic standing with passing or remediation of Pharmacotherapy I-IV & Pharmacology I-III*

PHAR 577 Women's Health Issues in Pharmacy Practice [2]

Women's Health Issues in Pharmacy Practice provides an overview of diseases and health issues affecting women across their lifespan through the female patient's perspective. Women's advocacy activities will include female-centered community service. Students will learn how to provide female patients individualized medication therapy to fit her unique medical needs while balancing psychosocial influences of her everyday life.

PHAR 581 IPPE-5 [3]

During the elective semesters of the experiential education curriculum, students will continue to explore and experience the roles and responsibilities of a professional pharmacist.

Students will participate in the practice of pharmacy with pharmacists, patients, and other health care providers and will apply knowledge obtained in the required curriculum.

The course will consist of longitudinal off-campus rotation experiences in a variety of pharmacy practices, as well as on-campus discussions.

PHAR 591 Pediatric Pharmacology and Therapeutics [2]

This course is intended to be an overview of the healthy, acutely ill, and chronic - complex pediatric patient. A focus of this course will be the preventative and supporting pharmaceutical therapies used in managing these types of patients. The approach taken will be by age group and discuss pharmaceutical management in both ambulatory and inpatient settings. Age groups covered will include fetal, preterm, term infant, toddlers, preschool, school age, and teenage. Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. PSYCHOLOGY

PSY 511 Psychological Foundations of Teaching and Learning [3]

A study of selected theories of learning and their implications for the classroom setting. Applications of psychological principles and research to instructional situations with an emphasis on those that involve a Christian setting.

PSY 512 Educational Assessment [3]

A study and critical evaluation of the assessment process. Types of assessment construction, interpretation, use and communication of test data will be discussed.

PSY 514 Psychology of Exceptionality and Multiculturalism [3]

A survey course considering the types, characteristics, problems, and needs of children who deviate from the norm. The areas of exceptionality given special consideration will include the mentally retarded; the gifted and creative; learning disabled; behavior disordered; communication disordered; visual or hearing impaired; physically/health impaired and multicultural.

PSY 515 The Maladjusted Child in the Schools [3]

The course is designed to examine current theories, practices and services related to the education of behavior disordered children.

PSY 521 Advanced Child Development and Psychology [3]

An advanced study of children as they develop from conception through the elementary school years. Emphasis on factors which pattern personality development and learning.

PSY 542 Introduction to Counseling [3]

One aspect of ministry is the art of investment through listening with sincere concern when individuals need assistance in dealing with certain situations which arise in their lives. In the parish setting, this is especially true in regard to youth. This course introduces students to the fundamentals of individual counseling, emphasis being placed on helping the students assess their ability to empathetically understand, accept, and respect the individual.

PSY/FL 545 Marriage and Family Relationships [3]

A study of the foundation of marriage and family within the framework of Christian theology and praxis. Includes the history of marriage and family, contributions to and development of the field in divorce prevention, remarriage, divorce recovery; current theories and approaches to training in CPREP: The Christian Prevention and Relationship Enhancement Program and/or PREPARE/ENRICH certification or re-certification, among others.

PSY/FL 546 Family Dysfunctions: Assessment and Intervention [3]

Covers the etiology and interventions of emotional and behavioral dysfunctions from a family systems perspective and a Christian theological framework. Provides community counselors with assessment and intervention tools designed to help church professionals in topical areas to gambling, chemical, Internet addictions, anger management and other abuses found in family and community networks.

PSY 551 Personality Theory [3]

A study of classical, behavior, and modern theories of personality dynamics. Attention is directed toward understanding human behavior from a variety of psychological perspectives and toward applying insights gained from personality theory to helping relationships.

PSY 552 Psychology of Adolescence [2-3]

A study of physical, social, sexual, cognitive, moral, and spiritual development during adolescence with special attention to practical assistance and intervention for young people by counselors, teachers, youth workers and pastors.

PSY/FL 555 Lifespan Development [3]

A study of the development of changes of the person through the individual and family life cycle. Each stage of the cycle will consider physical development, including body changes and motor skills; cognitive development, including thought and language; psycho-social development, including emotions, personality, and relationships with other people; spiritual development, including spiritual formation and implications for family life ministry.

PSY/FL 560 Professional Ethics [3]

This course will examine issues of professional ethics, morality, and faith. The course begins with a brief introduction to theological ethics before examining and applying National Council on Family Relations (NCFR) and church body ethical guidelines to case situations. Aspects of professional ethics will be discussed throughout the course. The course moves to practical issues in personal morality, which will be discussed in relation to family and society. Issues such as marriage and commitment, homosexuality, abortion, end of life issues and the development of faith and virtue will also be discussed. Attention will be given to how one's theological commitments transform secular moral problems and their solutions.

SCIENCE

SCI 502 Science for Elementary Teachers: Content and

Process [3]

A study of basic content and processes of science for the elementary teacher, including background material for the teacher to understand science content generally found in elementary materials. Special emphasis on how to do "hands-on" science lessons.

SCI 597 Internship in Environmental Education [3]

SOCIOLOGY

Concordia University, Nebraska is currently authorized or licensed to operate from a physical location in the state of Nebraska. Additionally, Concordia is operating in Nebraska under terms and conditions of SARA. Concordia is a participant in the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA) initiative. Concordia will continue to monitor developments in state laws in each state in which it enrolls students and, if authorization or licensure is or becomes necessary, will work to obtain such additional approvals. (Note: Many states do not require specific authorization or licensure for their residents to enroll in online programs.)*

Out-of-state online education students residing in a SARA state unable to resolve their complaint with Concordia through the University's complaint process may file a complaint with Nebraska's SARA portal agency, Nebraska's Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education (CCPE). More information is available here:

Student grade and student conduct violation complaints cannot be reviewed by the CCPE. For a list of current SARA states, please visit: <http://nc-sara.org/sara-states-institutions>.

Out-of-state online education students not residing in a SARA state unable to resolve their complaint with Concordia through the University's complaint process may contact their respective state of residence agency listed below to file a complaint.

We are including this information in our catalog in order to comply with new regulations regarding state authorization.

Teacher Education: State authorization to provide a program related to the preparation of teachers or other P-12 school/system personnel does not indicate eligibility for an Alabama certificate. Applicants for an Alabama certificate based on reciprocity must meet Alabama's test requirements and submit a valid, renewable professional educator certificate/license issued by another state at the degree level, grade level, and in the teaching field or area of instructional support for which an Alabama certificate is sought and for which Alabama issues a certificate. Applicants for Alabama certification in an area of administration must also document at least three years of full-time employment as an administrator in a P-12 school system(s).

Educator Preparation Programs: Arkansas students are to understand that enrollment in the educator preparation programs offered by Concordia University, Nebraska (i.e. M.Ed. Curriculum & Instruction, M.Ed. Educational Administration, and M.Ed. Early Childhood, M.Ed. Literacy, M.Ed. TESOL...) requires them to pursue teacher/ administrator licensure in Nebraska and then earn an Arkansas educator or school administrator license/endorsement by reciprocity. They are to understand that the State of Arkansas has additional course requirements in order to earn an Arkansas license in the program area or a similar program area, and that they must check the website for information on Arkansas reciprocity: www.arkansased.org/divisions/human-resources-educator-effectiveness-and-licensure/educator-licensure-unit/licensure-by-reciprocity
